Acheson Pleads For Arms Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Acheson today urged Congress to approve the new $1,222,500,000 foreign arms aid program to help free peoples protect themselves against "those who would enslave them."

He said the United States must continue its military assistance to western Europe in order to preserve the North Atlantic area from aggression.

He said the western, anti-Communist coalition already has made great progress in economic and political co-operation and in defense preparations.

But, the secretary said sharply, if any one of us lets down, or slackens his efforts, the result could well be disaster. Only by forceful, concerted action along the lines which have been initiated can the countries which practice democracy preserve democracy.

Acheson's prepared testimony was presented at a joint session of the Senate foreign relations and armed services committee.

It followed by a day President Truman's message asking Congress for the new funds to keep flowing the $1,314,810,000 of U.S. munitions already being sent abroad in this fiscal year. The new money would provide arms aid for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Truman called the aid a "dynamic program of constructive action . . . to expand the freedom and increase the well-being of all free people."

TRUMAN BLUNT

The President's statement in support of his request was far more heated than the one Acheson presented today. Truman said bluntly that the Soviet Communists are threatening free countries everywhere and "the urgent need to reinforce 'the ramparts of freedom . . . has never been more plain.'"

Later in the day Truman followed up his message to Congress with a press conference

JAP FISHBOATS' RETURN POLLED

PRINCE RUPERT (BUP) — A survey will be conducted next week as to the possibility of Japanese fishermen returning to northern British Columbia waters.

A representative of the Japanese-Canadian Association, Buck Suzuki, is expected in Prince Rupert June 9. Suzuki will tour camps and canneries up-coast with a view to having Japanese fishermen return to the Skeena River.

MAJOR STRIKE ON LONDON'S DOCKS LIKELY

Bargemen, Railroad Workers Threaten To Tie Up Food Supplies

LONDON (Reuter)—Strikes by Thames bargemen and railroad workers today threatened food cargoes in the port of London and paralysis of movement of goods to the Continent.

More than 550 lightermen who man river barges were on strike because 91 bargemen had been fired after striking in sympathy with 14 men suspended for refusing to work overtime.

About 460 of the 4,000 lightermen in the port stopped work Thursday, tying up numbers of small craft and delaying unloading of cargoes from freighters anchored in mid-stream.

Along the river fears were expressed that the lightermen's dispute might herald another widespread stoppage in the port, where a government-appointed mission has only just begun an investigation into the big dockers' strikes of last summer and earlier this year.

South of the Thames at one of London's biggest rail depots, 250 cartage workers this morning decided to continue their two-day strike in protest against the promotion of a foreman to an inspector and to call on 1,750 other workers to support them.

The depot is the main rail centre from which goods are sent to the continent and the three southern counties of Kent, Sussex and Hampshire.

Acheson reported to Congress members personally Wednesday on his recent diplomatic talks in London.

Acheson said in his prepared testimony today:

"Much, of course, remains to be done. Further progress will continue to depend on the unshaken effort of all 12 partners (in the North Atlantic Treaty). It is perfectly clear, however, that if the treaty members are to be able to preserve the North Atlantic area from aggression, the United States must continue with its military aid to those countries."

comment that he thinks the world is nearer peace today than it has been at any time during the last five years.

NEW UNITY

The President offered no bridge between his two statements by way of explanation. Other officials said, however, that the main point of Truman's present foreign policy is that the western powers achieve unity and military strength, and that those defence factors now are at their highest point since the cold war began.

$75,000 Worth Of Gold Stolen

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Three gold bars, worth $75,000, were stolen during the night from the Delnide Mine, five miles southeast of Timmins.

Provincial police said the robbery was reported by J. J. Mangin, office manager at the mine. Mangin found at 7:30 a.m. that a walk-in vault at the mine had been entered and a small safe containing the three bars had been removed.

Police arranged road blocks at strategic points on the single highway—No. 11—through the northeastern section of northern Ontario. Blocks were established at Cochrane and Hearst to the north and northwest and toward Swastika where the road leads to the south.

A general alarm was broadcast on the provincial police short-wave radio network.

It was not clear immediately how the robbers—police are convinced more than one man was involved—obtained entry to the mine office.

JAPAN ALERTS POLICE; FEARS STRIKE RIOTS

Occupation Chiefs Say Red-Directed Outbreak To Fail

TOKYO (UP)—Japanese authorities alerted all local and national police today to prevent disorders during the Communist general strike called for tomorrow.

Police in Tokyo were instructed to assign five riot squads to guard the capital's demonstrations and to have reserves ready in case of emergency.

Although the Communists and Communist-dominated unions were making preparations for extensive demonstrations, called to support demands for the release of eight Japanese charged with attacking Americans, occupation officials predicted the strike would be a flop.

Labor officials in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said the Communists did not have strength enough to pull a general strike.

Living the Communists the benefit of the doubt, they probably influence fewer than 600,000 of Japan's 6,250,000 organized workers," one official said.

STUDENTS JOIN IN

Many student unions also have voted to join the strike. It was estimated that perhaps 300,000 students would participate in the demonstrations with the Communists.

Premier Shigeru Yoshida attended a conference with MacArthur Thursday night on what informed sources said were questions concerning maintenance of public peace and order.

A Japanese government spokesman said measures were being worked out to tighten control on political gatherings and demonstrations in the future.

LONDON (CP)—Thirty-nine members of the Kilsilano Boys' Band arrived by ship at nearby Tilbury today for a four-month stay in Britain and The Netherlands.

Members of the band, ranging in ages from 15 to 19, traveled from Tilbury by bus and planned to spend the afternoon sightseeing in London.

Conductor Arthur Delamont has arranged an extensive program which will begin tomorrow with a BBC concert. The boys will go to Weymouth, Dorset, Sunday, and play in Bourne-mouth starting Monday.

WHY THEY CONFESS

Respond To Impulse To Commit Suicide

LONDON (Reuter)—British psychiatrists have come up with what they claim to be an answer to one of crime's queerest problems—why innocent people give themselves up to police for murders they had not committed.

They say it is because the thought of being hanged satisfies a hidden impulse to commit suicide that lies at the back of many persons' minds.

In testimony before a Royal Commission set up to probe capital punishment, the psychiatrists claim many people have impulses to commit murder which may be traced back to childhood loves and hates.

The testimony, was contained in a brief submitted to the commission by British Institute of Psycho-analysis.

Hawaii Volcano Sends Stream Of Lava To Sea

HONOLULU (AP)—At least two persons are missing and 15 homes destroyed in the eruption of Mauna Loa volcano, which poured a river of red-hot lava 20 miles to the ocean at Kona, Hawaii, police said today.

The massive volcano erupted Thursday night, driving 60 families from their homes on southwest Hawaii island.

Police said Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Lincoln, a retired couple in their 70s, are missing. Police reported the molten lava streams poured into several seacoast villages and destroyed "about 15 homes and one Catholic church."

A schoolhouse also was reported demolished, but this was unconfirmed.

MILE WIDE

Police said the area damaged was on the northern side of the lava flow, which they said was one mile wide.

Communications with the southern part have been cut, and the damage there is not known. Kona police said another 40 homes in the area were believed safe for the present.

The hot lava presumably burned down telephone poles, cutting circuits.

More Czechs Plead Guilty To Spy Charge

PRAGUE (UP)—A defendant in the mass trial of 18 Czechs on charges of plotting to overthrow the Communist government testified today that he turned over Czech uranium secrets to agents of the western powers.

Frankisek Preucil, 43, former National Socialist member of Parliament, said he got reports on uranium production and handed them to a newspaper editor who in turn sent them out of the country by the diplomatic communications channel of a western embassy.

Preucil and Miss Frantiska Semanova, 68, member of Parliament for 20 years, were the fourth and fifth defendants to plead guilty before the State Court in Pankrac Prison.

A Japanese government spokesman said measures were being worked out to tighten control on political gatherings and demonstrations in the future.

Plot To Slay Gen. MacArthur Believed Fake

TOKYO (AP)—Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby said tonight occupation headquarters had received Japanese reports of another plot to assassinate Gen. MacArthur, Supreme Allied Commander in Japan, but he called them "an absolute fake."

"Nobody is going to kill Santa Claus," Willoughby, MacArthur's intelligence officer, said.

He disclosed an "excitable" Japanese policeman had informed occupation headquarters that police had arrested a Japanese Thursday who "apparently was a paranoic—a man who thinks the world is against him."

Headquarters "refuses to accept this story as evidence of a plot," Willoughby said. He added that no extra guards had been assigned to MacArthur.

ELECTION DAY

Another U.S. source said the alleged plot as told to occupation headquarters was this:

An unidentified Tokyo organization, reported to be left-wing, planned to kill MacArthur near downtown Hibaya Park, not far from headquarters.

The date originally was set for May 14 or 15, but was postponed until June 4 to coincide with the Upper House of Parliament elections.

The man arrested supposedly was involved in the plan but it was not clear whether he was to be the assassin. There was no information concerning the organization and no details as to how the killing was to be done.

Rain Helps Fire Fighters In Nova Scotia

HALIFAX (CP)—A spasm of drizzle today assisted firefighters who have been battling a blaze in the nearby upper Musquodoboit area since Monday.

The fire began to splutter under the rain, but some 1,500 volunteers kept at work in their task of quelling the flames which have destroyed one dwelling and several barns and logging camps.

Chief Forester David S. Dyer said it is still too early to say whether the Musquodoboit fire and some 12 others burning in Nova Scotia forests are completely under control.

Two plane loads of supplies already have been sent to Canada.

MISSION (BUP) — The Fraser River at Mission went down today for the first time in several days. The river level dropped a bit more than one-tenth of a foot. Today's Mission gauge registered 13.71. Thursday it was 13.86 feet. Flood level of the Fraser at Mission is 20 feet.

Builders Angry City Seawall Repair Policy

Victoria Building Industries Exchange this afternoon attacked City Council for its policy in connection with repairing the Dallas Road sea wall. In a letter to Mayor Percy George and aldermen, the exchange criticized use of day labor on the project after tenders had been called.

"Our members believe your action is wrong in principle in as much as work not falling within the ordinary scope of the activities carried out by the city's staff should, as a matter of practice, not be undertaken by the city," the letter stated.

"Even if the city is capable of doing the work at an equal cost, which we do not admit, there is still no justification for the attempt to prevent legitimate private enterprise from earning a reasonable profit," the letter continued.

The exchange also said it was not in agreement with the opinion of some aldermen that the city engineering staff was as competent at making estimates as private contractors.

Nanaimo Bridge Declared Unsafe

NANAIMO (BUP)—Provincial Police have put a 24-hour guard over the Millstream Bridge at Nanaimo and condemned the bridge as unsafe.

Part Of Village Destroyed As Hawaii Volcano Erupts Fiercely

By STANLEY CARTER

HONOLULU (AP)—Mauna Loa erupted with an awesome lava flow that today destroyed part of a village and 15 homes, trapped an undetermined number of persons, and left at least two others missing.

The civil air patrol flashed word that the village of Miloli on the nearby coast was encircled by fiery lava. It said there are seven houses in Miloli and "people are in them."

Harry Blickhahn, editor of the Hilo Tribune-Herald, reported eight to 10 sightseers were marooned on the main highway southwest of the volcano. The river of lava split and caught them between its branches. They were in no immediate danger, however.

Mauna Loa, quiet for 18 months, erupted Thursday night. It sent two streams of molten rock more than 20 miles to the sea. At least 60 families were driven from their homes.

Police said Mr. and Mrs. L. P.

INFERNO-LIKE SCENE

Heat From Spouting Vent Rocks Aircraft

By ROY ESSOYAN

OVER MAUNA LOA VOLCANO, Hawaii (AP) — The world's most active volcano looks like something out of Dante's inferno.

Our four-engine military transport service plane rocked through the rough air caused by the heat from erupting Mauna Loa as we passed over the volcano repeatedly early today.

Geyers of white hot lava shot up some 500 feet in the air. They spouted at intervals along a five-mile area of the sharp ridge.

When Mauna Loa started erupting Thursday night it did not cut loose from the crater at the summit. Instead it blew out from a fissure on its south-west slope.

We could see the lava flowing swiftly from the fissure. The upper vent is around the 12,000-foot level of the 13,680-foot giant. There is another at 10,000 feet and a third at 7,000.

The ribbons of lava pouring down the southwest slope were beginning to merge into one

Big Crackdown On Underworld Of U.S. Looms

Senate Probe Has Truman's Approval; Beginning To Roll

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate investigation of crime and gambling in the United States appeared to be snow-balling today into the biggest crackdown on the underworld since prohibition days.

With the full support of President Truman—reaffirmed at his news conference Thursday—a special Senate committee moved a series of fast-breaking inquiries stretching all the way from New York and Florida to California.

In the latest move, chairman Estes Kefauver (Dem.-Tenn.) disclosed he will ask the Federal Communications Commission to "freeze" all Western Union message files to prevent them from being discarded.

The F.C.C. has ordered such a freeze on telephone toll slips at the request of the Kefauver committee. Normally the telephone companies destroy toll slips after holding them for six months. Western Union keeps its message files for the same period.

The investigators hope, through these communications records, to establish that big-time gamblers and racketeers are using interstate communications to conduct their operations.

At his press conference, Truman pledged his personal support—and the full co-operation of federal agencies—to the Senate committee.

Warm Spell Needed By Prairie Crops

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prairie farmers, set back by one of the latest seeding seasons on record, need warmer weather to nurse along crops hampered by stiff, cool winds.

The weekly crop report issued by the Canadian National Railway and the Canadian Pacific Railway indicated germination in unflooded parts of Manitoba was satisfactory, in Saskatchewan mostly good and in Alberta only fair.

In the Peace River district germination was slow. Grain crops were showing green in parts of Manitoba not touched by the Red River floods. In Saskatchewan they were up six inches, and in Alberta seven.

RED VALLEY LOSS

In southern Manitoba wheat seeding was from 20 per cent to 90 per cent completed. Practically no cash crops would be sown in the Red River Valley. Some farmers there were on the land, seeding up to 20 per cent of their fields to feed crops. Sugar-beet acreage will be reduced, the report said.

In northern Manitoba 65 to 100 per cent of the wheat acreage had been seeded, with oats varying from 25 to 80 per cent. Comparative moisture tables showed Manitoba as the only province where the supply is ample. Precipitation for May was 3.69 inches compared with a normal of 2.68.

In Saskatchewan precipitation was near normal (1.94 inches to 2.35) but high winds have dried surface soil. Alberta also needs rain in almost all districts.

Baby Perishes In Bella Fire

OCEAN FALLS (CP)—Thirteen-month-old Mark Reid perished in his crib Thursday when flames consumed the home of his parents at Bella Bella, 25 miles west of here.

His mother, Mrs. Larence Reid, stood helplessly outside the flaming home, unable to enter because of the intense heat and smoke. The child's father was away fishing.

WOMAN DETECTIVE PLUGS SUSPECT IN DRUG PROBE

NEW YORK (AP)—A petite slacks-clad woman detective shot and wounded a man Thursday night as she and a male sleuth raided an upper Manhattan apartment and arrested eight dope suspects.

Brunette Kathryn Barry, five-foot-two, is a member of the city's narcotic squad. Clad in a grey topcoat, blouse and grey slacks, Miss Barry teamed up with Detective Max Renner to shoulder their way into the apartment and confront seven men.

Two other men walked in. "One was carrying a gun. The man with the gun fired. The other man fumbled in an inner pocket.

"Keep your hands still or I'll kill you," Miss Barry said. The man made another grab at his jacket pocket and Miss Barry fired. In hospital with a leg wound is Douglas Lopez, 26.

The detectives said they seized a quantity of marijuana in the raid.

Miss Barry, 10 years a policewoman, said it was the first time she had fired at a prisoner.

LIVING COST STATIC AT ALL-TIME TOP

Index 164.0, With Higher Food Levels Offset By Cuts In Fuel, Light, Clothing Prices

OTTAWA (CP)—The cost-of-living index remained stationary at 164.0 during April, the Bureau of Statistics reported this afternoon.

A slight increase in foods during the month was offset by decreases in fuel and light and clothing. It marked the first halt since last December in the steady upward climb of the index to the all-time high of 164.0 reached in March.

The index, calculated on the basis 1933-39 prices equal 100, stood at 161.0 in December, 1949. The food group index advanced one-tenth of a point to 204.6 from 204.5 registered in March.

The bureau reported that a 5-cent decline in butter and small decreases in eggs and pork were not sufficient to offset an average increase of 5 cents in beef and 2 cents in coffee.

The clothing sub index fell four-tenths of a point to 180.8, reflecting some price reduction in women's wear.

Fuel and light fell half a point from 138.0 to 137.5. Decreases in anthracite coal proved more important than advances in electricity rates in certain Ontario centres.

The index of home furnishings and services was unchanged at 166.4, as was the miscellaneous group at 132.3. Rents were not surveyed during April and the sub-index remained at the all-time high of 132.7 set last summer.

Man Seriously Hurt In Attack

Severe head and face injuries and a possible fractured left ankle, were suffered by 36-year-old Jack Kibsgaard, 535 Johnson Street, when attacked by two men late Thursday night. Kibsgaard told police he could not name his assailants but could recognize them.

"He said the attackers took a bottle of whisky from him.

Canada Dollar Revaluation Rumor Spiked

OTTAWA (CP)—Rumors that the Canadian dollar may be returned to par with the United States dollar has led to a marked increase in the number of Canadian exporters taking out "cover" on American orders on which payment is outstanding.

A spokesman for the Foreign Exchange Control Board today confirmed that the board, through chartered banks, has covered millions of dollars' worth of Canadian business with the United States against the eventuality that the Canadian dollar might be revalued.

"But," the official added, "there is absolutely no truth in the revaluation rumor as far as we are concerned. Forward contract protection has been available to Canadian exporters ever since foreign exchange control came into being.

FORWARD PLAN

"Exporters can make a forward contract with the board, which means they receive a forward payment at the exchange rate prevailing on the day the sale is made.

"Most big companies take out forward coverage all the time. Now it looks as though some of the smaller companies are taking the same precaution."

At Vancouver, it was reported that British Columbia firms have "covered" orders worth more than $30,000,000. B.C. exporters chiefly concerned were those dealing in "lumber," pulp and paper, fertilizer and base metals.

Denouncing Freight Rates, Drew, C.C.F., Urge Changes

OTTAWA (CP)—Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. spokesmen united in an attack on the government's freight-rate policies in the Commons today.

As the House launched a debate on the controversial issue, the Progressive Conservatives sought to force a vote of criticism of the actions of the Board of Transport Commissioners, which regulates the railways.

The C.C.F. announced it would support the main opposition group in the vote, which called for slashing to $1 a $624,800 appropriation for administration of the board.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, introduced the motion at the morning sitting amid indications the debate would run all day.

Mr. Drew's criticism ranged over a wide field, including what he termed its failure to level out inequities in the rate structure which reacted unfavorably against the non-central provinces.

'COLOSSAL' ERROR

He accused it of the "most colossal blunder in simple arithmetic" that Canada had ever seen in its March 1 judgment awarding a 16 per cent rate increase to the railways. The board later amended this award to 20 per cent, admitting it had made an error in the original judgment.

Mr. Drew called for drastic changes in the board set-up. He wanted it to have more independence and to be equipped with the best expert advice, declaring it was not able to do its job now.

Mr. Drew declared that a Supreme Court of Canada decision of last December, finding fault with the way the board had awarded a temporary rate increase in September, reflected on its ability to deal with the situation.

It might not have reflected on the ability of the individual board members, the condition might have been due to limitations under which the board operated.

The "strangest incident of all," Mr. Drew said, came this year after the board had awarded a further 8 per cent to the railways.

He said the main ground of appeal by the railways was that the board "was not able to add its own figures."

(In its March 1 judgment, the board found that the C.P.R.—the "yardstick" line—had a 1949 revenue deficiency of some $29,000,000. But it awarded a judgment that fell short of yielding this by about $7,000,000. Last week, it granted a railway appeal, awarding a further increase enough to give the railways about $13,000,000 a year more.)

"Even if the basis of the first award were right," Mr. Drew said, "they were out $13,000,000 in their conclusion. The last decision was really a finding by the board that it did not know how to work out its own decision in terms of simple arithmetic."

He said the House should not put its stamp of approval—by voting the estimate—on a board which had made such a "colossal error."

From A.P., B.U.P. Dispatches

Fires ripped through western Oregon forests today, one of them threatening Detroit Dam site and its construction town.

A 40-mile-an-hour east wind swept flames at the dam site, high in the Cascades east of Salem, toward the construction town of Mongold.

"A serious fire danger now exists throughout the state of Oregon," the weather bureau at Portland said in a fire warning bulletin.

Intermittent showers and drizzling rain swept fire-ravaged forests, putting an end to a fire danger that threatened the province's entire lumber industry.

Sudden downpours squelched the fire threat to the villages of Dean settlement, Woodside and Pleasant Valley and brought to an end a week-long non-stop struggle of thousands of weary firefighters.

Intent On Garden Woman Loses Purse

While Mrs. R. Wall, 658 Moss Street, was working in her garden Thursday a thief entered her house and stole her purse.

The purse contained $20 in cash and two cheques worth $11 and $18.50. Both the back and front doors had been left open, police said.

Major Strike On London's Docks Likely

LONDON (Reuter)—Strikes by Thames bargemen and railroad workers today threatened food cargoes in the port of London and paralysis of movement of goods to the Continent.

More than 550 lightermen who man river barges were on strike because 91 bargemen had been fired after striking in sympathy with 14 men suspended for refusing to work overtime.

About 460 of the 4,000 lightermen in the port stopped work Thursday, tying up numbers of small craft and delaying unloading of cargoes from freighters anchored in mid-stream.

Along the river fears were expressed that the lightermen's dispute might herald another widespread stoppage in the port, where a government-appointed mission has only just begun an investigation into the big dockers' strikes of last summer and earlier this year.

South of the Thames at one of London's biggest rail depots, 250 cartage workers this morning decided to continue their two-day strike in protest against the promotion of a foreman to an inspector and to call on 1,750 other workers to support them.

The depot is the main rail centre from which goods are sent to the continent and the three southern counties of Kent, Sussex and Hampshire.

Oregon Fire Threatens Town And Dam Site

From A.P., B.U.P. Dispatches

Fires ripped through western Oregon forests today, one of them threatening Detroit Dam site and its construction town.

A 40-mile-an-hour east wind swept flames at the dam site, high in the Cascades east of Salem, toward the construction town of Mongold.

"A serious fire danger now exists throughout the state of Oregon," the weather bureau at Portland said in a fire warning bulletin.

Intermittent showers and drizzling rain swept fire-ravaged forests, putting an end to a fire danger that threatened the province's entire lumber industry.

Sudden downpours squelched the fire threat to the villages of Dean settlement, Woodside and Pleasant Valley and brought to an end a week-long non-stop struggle of thousands of weary firefighters.

Locomotive Topples In Crash But No One Killed

A loaded cement truck burns on C.P.R. track at Cathedral Avenue in northend Winnipeg after a collision. The truck was dragged 200 feet and yards of track were ripped up. The truck driver suffered abdominal cuts, while the train brakeman broke a leg. The engineer and conductor jumped to safety.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

WOMAN BONESETTER

MY DELVINGS into that first known magazine—The Gentleman's Magazine, published in London, England, in 1736, to which I have alluded in previous columns—brought to light many an interesting and amusing sidelight on the manners and customs of 18th century Britain.

Among other things I came across a number of references to a woman bonesetter, a Mrs. Mapp, who, while allegedly performing miracles, was wholly unqualified as judged by the professional standards of the medical practitioners of that day, and who, in consequence, met with marked hostility from them. That hostility took the form of public ridicule in the press, but it seemingly did not interfere with her success.

CRAZY SALLY

The first reference to her appears in the issue of July 31, 1731, as follows:

"In the Daily Advertiser, July 28, Joshua Ward, Esq., having the Queen's leave, recites seven extraordinary cases of Persons which were cured by him, and examined before Her Majesty June 7. Objections to which had been made in the Grub-Street Journal, June 24. But the Attention of the Publick has been a little taken off from the Wonder-Working Mr. Ward, to a strolling woman, now at Epsom, who calls her Crazy Sally, and had performed cures in Bone-setting to Admiration and occasioned so great a Resort, that the Town offered her 100 guineas to continue there a year."

The wonder-working Mr. Ward seems to have been famous for a pill of his own making which he claimed cured a host of other ailments—and he evidently convinced the Queen of his ability. I love that touch about his being examined before Her Majesty. Crowned heads today would certainly be kept busy if they consented to act as examiners for all the self-styled miracle workers!

MARRIES FOOTMAN

BUT Epsom, the Surrey town to which "Crazy Sally" strolled, evidently appreciated her value as a drawing card—or tourist attraction—when they thought it worth while to give her 100 guineas a year as a retainer. In any event, her success was such that she decided to take unto herself a husband—but of the "inferior rank"—for the Marriage Announcements of August, 1736, contain this revealing item:

"Crazy Sally, alias Sarah Wallin, the famous bonesetter at Epsom, to one Mapp, Footman to Mr. Ibbelson, mercer, Ludgate Hill."

But the marriage was of short—and probably painful—duration, judging by a new item recorded in the same magazine a few pages later.

BRIDEGROOM ABSCOND

THERE, under the date of Aug. 31, 1736, appears this report about Mrs. Mapp:

"The cures performed by the Woman Bonesetter of Epsom are too many to be enumerated: Her Bandages are Extraordinarily neat, and her Dexterity in reducing Dislocations and settings of fractured Bones wonderful. She has cured Persons who have been above 20 years disabled, and has given incredible Relief in the most difficult Cases. The same came daily to her, and she got a great deal of Money, Persons of Quality who attended her Operations making her Presents. Her father it seems is one Wallin, a Bonesetter in Wilts. The money she got procured her a Husband, but he did not stay with her above a fortnight and then went off with 100 Guineas."

On turning over the page I discovered that an anonymous poet of the day had commemorated the marital fracture in these satirical terms:

"Crack'd Sally, who as grateful London owns,
Of fractures and distortions makes no bones;
O, that the doctress could, with art or might,
Reform our crooked ribs and set 'em right!
To matrimonial ligature incline,
Bent her affections wrong, and broke her mind;
Committing nuptial bandage to endure,
A dislocation that admits no cure!"

MADE MONEY

IN THE MEANTIME, Mrs. Mapp went on setting more bones and getting rich, to the extent, we are told, she used to drive her own coach and four horses to London twice a week to see patients in that metropolis. So great was her fame that one poet waxed lyrical over her, decrying the work of Ward and other rival "quacks" and eulogizing her thus:

"Let these, O Mapp! thou wonder of the age!
With dubious arts endeavour to engage;
While you irregularly strict to rules,
Teach dull collegiate Pedants they are fools;
By merit, the sure path to Fame pursue;
For all who see thy Art, must own it true."

Despite all her success as a bonesetter, however, Mrs. Mapp couldn't mend her own ways. She died a pauper—a "victim of strong drink and spirituous liquors." Her obituary notices added that "she was strong of muscle, fat of body and masculine of face"—which may explain her inability to keep even a footman-husband!

Arena Group Will Decide Action On Rink Flooring

A recommendation on the Arena floor will be brought to City Council meeting Tuesday, Ald. Frank G. Mulliner, chairman of the Arena committee, said today.

Possibility of obtaining the opinion of an outside engineer on the floor condition, will be discussed by the committee at a meeting Monday.

"We don't know yet what our recommendation will be but we will come to some decision," Ald. Mulliner said. Luney Bros. and Hamilton, Arena floor contractors, said an independent opinion should be obtained by the city on the floor after C. T. Hamilton, consulting engineer, refused to accept the contractor's work on the grounds it does not meet specifications.

69 More Douks Sentenced For Nude Parading

NELSON (CP) — Sixty-nine Sons of Freedom Doukhobors were sentenced Wednesday to three years in prison for nude parading.

Forty-two men and women were convicted for parading at Krestova Tuesday; the rest for stripping at Glade Wednesday. All pleaded innocent.

Many of the group were young girls with braided hair and wearing bobby sox.

Sons of Freedom staged more strip acts at Thrums and Perry Sliding, but there were no arrests.

Death Accidental Verdict Of Jury

DUNCAN — Accidental death was the verdict brought in by a coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Nikola Syetic, 26-year-old Chemainus logger. Syetic died Tuesday after suffering multiple internal injuries when he was crushed by a log at Skultz Falls.

June Days Busy As Pupils Look Forward To Holidays

Pupils in Greater Victoria schools have their eyes fixed on June 28, when lessons for the present term will end and about 10,940 boys and girls in elementary and secondary schools will be free for the summer holidays.

There is still one other holiday however, with all the schools closing Monday in honor of the King's birthday.

The closing days of June will be busy and important ones for most pupils, particularly for those at the high schools who may have to write university examinations beginning on June 19, said John Gough, municipal inspector.

"The majority of pupils in the elementary and high schools look forward to being promoted on recommendation, with suitable graduation ceremonies being held for those leaving grade 8 and grade 12."

Functions to mark the graduation of senior high school students have been planned as follows: Esquimalt, today; Mt. View and Oak Bay, June 9; Victoria High, June 16. Mt. Douglas High School held a party on May 31.

It is expected the number of beginners for next September will far exceed the number graduating. During the past week parents visited schools to enroll children for kindergarten and grade 1 classes. Any parents who have children eligible for these two levels must enroll them immediately, Mr. Gough said.

ADVICE TO CITIES

Protocol For Aid Of Army Men

Every time there is a catastrophe in your community please do not call for the nearest army.

There is a correct way for a municipality to go about this sort of thing and B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs, appealed to the Municipal Officers' Association conference today to see what they could do about the situation.

"There seems to be developing an idea among some municipalities that the army is at their beck and call and all they have to do is write the local C.O. for assistance," he said.

"It is true the army helps out in catastrophes, but the assistance is the result of an arrangement between the provincial and federal governments. The municipalities have nothing to do with the Dominion with regard to defence forces."

Carrying out protocol would save all concerned much embarrassment, Mr. Bracewell said.

Optimist Conference Billed Here In 1951

Delegates from B.C. Alberta and the Pacific Northwest states will gather in the city next year to attend the annual conference of District 13, Optimist International.

This year's conference was held in Seattle, Wash., last month. The conference will be held here next May.

Acheson Asks For Arms To Help Free Peoples

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Acheson today urged Congress to approve the new $1,222,500,000 foreign arms aid program to help free peoples protect themselves against "those who would enslave them."

He said the United States must continue its military assistance to western Europe in order to preserve the North Atlantic area from aggression.

He said the western, anti-Communist coalition already has made great progress in economic and political co-operation and in defence preparations.

But, the secretary said sharply, if any one of us lets down, or slackens his efforts, the result could well be disaster. Only by forceful, concerted action along the lines which have been initiated can the countries which practice democracy preserve democracy.

Acheson's prepared testimony was presented at a joint session of the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees.

It followed by a day President Truman's message asking Congress for the new funds to keep flowing the $1,314,010,000 of U.S. munitions already being sent abroad in this fiscal year. The new money would provide arms aid for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Acheson said in his prepared testimony today: "Much, of course, remains to be done. Further progress will continue to depend on the un-sackened effort of all 12 partners (in the North Atlantic Treaty). It is perfectly clear, however, that if the treaty members are to be able to preserve the North Atlantic area from aggression, the United States must continue with its military aid to those countries."

Thieves Take Gold Valued At $75,000

Three Bars Looted From Vault Of Mine Near Timmins, Ont.

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Three gold bars, worth $75,000, were stolen during the night from the Delnite Mine, five miles southeast of Timmins.

Provincial police said the robbery was reported by J. J. Mangan, office manager at the mine. Mangan found at 7.30 a.m. that a walk-in vault at the mine had been entered and a small safe containing the three bars had been removed.

Police arranged road blocks at strategic points on the single highway—No. 11—through the northeastern section of northern Ontario. Blocks were established at Cochrane and Hearst to the north and northwest and toward Swastika where the road leads to the south.

A general alarm was broadcast on the provincial police short-wave radio network. It was not clear immediately how the robbers—police are convinced more than one man was involved—obtained entry to the mine office.

The $75,000 valuation came from police. It was based on the official price of $38.50 an ounce for gold. Mining men said if the stolen gold were sold on the free market it would command a much higher price.

A single road through the bush leads from Timmins to the Delnite property in Deloro Township.

Delnite's annual report, just issued, reports bullion output worth $1,410,083 in 1949. Its net profit was $395,256, 13.3 cents a share.

FISHING GEAR STOLEN
About $150 worth of fishing equipment was stolen from the fishboat owned by Norman Lougheed, 2830 Murray Drive, city police were informed Thursday. Boat was moored at the Orr and James wharf. The thieves also took two cans of paint and a new oil can.

Another U.S. source said the alleged plot as told to occupation headquarters was this: An unidentified Tokyo organization, reported to be left-wing, planned to kill MacArthur near downtown Hibaya Park, not far from headquarters.

The date originally was set for May 14 or 15, but was postponed until June 4 to coincide with the Upper House of Parliament elections.

Truman called the aid a "dynamic program of constructive action . . . to expand the freedom and increase the well-being of all free people."

Acheson reported to Congress members personally Wednesday on his recent diplomatic talks in London.

MUCH TO BE DONE
Acheson said in his prepared testimony today:

"Much, of course, remains to be done. Further progress will continue to depend on the un-sackened effort of all 12 partners (in the North Atlantic Treaty). Only by forceful, concerted action along the lines which have been initiated can the countries which practice democracy preserve democracy.

Acheson's prepared testimony was presented at a joint session of the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees. It followed by a day President Truman's message asking Congress for the new funds to keep flowing the $1,314,010,000 of U.S. munitions already being sent abroad in this fiscal year. The new money would provide arms aid for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Acheson said in his prepared testimony today: "Much, of course, remains to be done. Further progress will continue to depend on the un-sackened effort of all 12 partners (in the North Atlantic Treaty). It is perfectly clear, however, that if the treaty members are to be able to preserve the North Atlantic area from aggression, the United States must continue with its military aid to those countries."

JAP FISHBOATS' RETURN POLLED

PRINCE RUPERT (BUP)

A survey will be conducted next week as to the possibility of Japanese fishermen returning to northern British Columbia waters.

A representative of the Japanese-Canadian Association, Buck Suzakal, is expected in Prince Rupert June 9. Suzakal will tour camps and canneries up-coast with a view to having Japanese fishermen return to the Skeena River.

Condition Of Two Hurt Children Slightly Better

Two injured children are making some progress in a grim fight for their lives in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

They are Darlene Sims, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. G. Sims, 626 Bryden Court, and Alan Barber, 12, visiting here from Oxbridge, Ont.

The Barber boy fell over a 60-foot cliff and suffered a skull fracture Sunday, while the Sims girl suffered head injuries when in collision with a car Monday evening on Head Street.

Both were reported to be slightly improved and responding to treatment. They have partially regained consciousness.

Crews Of 28 Great Lakes Grain Ships Plan Strike

MONTREAL (BUP)—A spokesman for the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) said today some 600 crew members of 28 Great Lakes and St. Lawrence ships will strike at midnight tonight following a breakdown in wage negotiations with the company.

The company, the Upper Lakes and St. Lawrence Transportation Company, hauls grain, ore and coal between Canadian and United States Great Lakes ports.

The S.I.U. spokesman also said his union had been assured support of the 30,000 longshoremen and railway employees who handle company cargoes. He did not elaborate.

JAPAN ALERTS POLICE; FEARS STRIKE RIOTS

Occupation Chiefs Say Red-Directed Outbreak To Fail

TOKYO (UP)—Japanese authorities alerted all local and national police today to prevent disorders during the Communist general strike called for tomorrow.

Police in Tokyo were instructed to assign five riot squads to guard the capital's demonstrations and to have reserves ready in case of emergency.

Although the Communists and Communist-dominated unions were making preparations for extensive demonstrations, called to support demands for the release of eight Japanese charged with attacking Americans, occupation officials predicted the strike would be a flop.

Labor officials in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said the Communists did not have strength enough to pull a general strike.

Giving the Communists the benefit of the doubt, they probably influence fewer than 600,000 of Japan's 6,250,000 organized workers, one official said.

Try New Talks In Chrysler Dispute

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Top spokesman of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.), and the Chrysler Corporation of Canada Ltd., met today in an effort to settle deadlocked contract negotiations before Monday's strike deadline. The union represents some 3,600 workers in Chrysler's three plants here. The union is seeking a company-paid and funded pensions plan, a company-paid health and social security plan and contract changes.

Make The Penalties Much Stiffer

PARLIAMENT AT OTTAWA HAS been asked to consider an amendment to the Criminal Code that would clarify some of the more confusing aspects of the law designed to deal with the person charged with driving an automobile while in a drunken condition—or, to use the less vulgar phrase—while under the influence of alcohol. Lawyer John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member of the House of Commons for Lake Centre, has had a good deal to say about the subject this week. Most people will agree that something needs to be done with the present law of the land in order that proceedings in the courts shall not be cluttered up by endless debates between the police, the magistrate and legal and medical experts.

Justice Minister Garson, on the other hand, while probably agreeing with the substance of Mr. Diefenbaker's argument, takes the view that nothing should be done that might seem to oblige an accused motorist, for instance, to prove that he was not "under the influence," instead of leaving the onus of proof on the prosecution. Surely there is sufficient imagination in the Department of Justice to devise some change for the Code that would in no way weaken or reverse the traditional British legal dictum that a man is adjudged innocent until he is proven guilty. The average layman will suggest to Mr. Garson that one method of deterring the motorist from mixing strong drink with gasoline would be the provision of such stiff penalties as could neither be laughed off nor regarded as but a small blot on the personal escutcheon of the offender.

Police magistrates in this and other communities throughout Canada are finding it increasingly difficult to deal effectively or adequately with those charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of alcohol. Once upon a time it was a relatively simple matter for an unbiased person—a conscientious policeman or an impartial witness—to decide whether the accused was or was not in a fit state to handle a car without risk to himself or others. Naturally the evidence was often contested and found to be at fault. But it appeared seldom necessary to resort to scientific medical formulae and streamlined legal contentions to substantiate such an alleged offence against the Motor Vehicle Act. And genuine complaints of overbearing officialdom or magisterial stubbornness were few and far between.

In other words, the search for loopholes in the law, the temptation to evoke the aid of intricate mechanical devices, had not become so intensive as it has become in the last year or so.

Nowadays, however, the officer on the beat often must ask himself what is the use of arresting the driver of an obviously "weaving" car if he is to be treated in court as if he were either a victim of hallucinations or overzealous in his response to the call of duty out of sheer cussedness. What the public rarely hears about are the numerous cases when the policeman has acted the good Samaritan to the inebriated driver of an automobile before he has had time to do any damage. In most of such cases, we are told, the person who has had "one over the eight" has shown his gratitude, permitted the officer to drive him home and garage the car. But when the offender in his cups wordily or violently refuses such assistance—frequently exuding high dudgeon at the very suggestion that he has imbibed more than is good for him—a trip to the police station is inevitable.

Our contention, then, is that an amendment to the Criminal Code should be approved by Parliament that would remove the anomaly, for instance, of a sentence of 20 days meted out to a plain drunk and seven days to a drunk in charge of a motorcar. Such a change assuredly would make the punishment fit the crime and obviate a good deal of police court wrangling.

After Crime And Love Comics, What?

IT WAS INEVITABLE THAT THE tawdry publications which replaced banned crime comics should arouse the ire of those interests which were active in stimulating government action against the lurid picture strips last year. The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, meeting in Montreal, has requested the authorities to have the act cover the so-called sex and love comics.

The Order's concern over these more recent pulp products can be easily understood. They are not of a nature to improve the minds or behavior of young readers. The question arises, however, over the possible substitutes that might be introduced if the sex and love comics were also removed from the market. There appears to be no lack of ingenuity on the part of publishers who capitalize on this particular field.

Results of the changes in legislation so far have served to underscore one point: This cheap, inferior printed matter wins a market because parents either have not bothered to or cannot discourage their children from reading the trash. It is no easy matter to close the door to comics when there are children in the house. As one writer very correctly noted, they seem to sift into homes like grit in a dust storm. One constructive line against the undesirable comic strip is to offer the young readers a superior product. Few youngsters will refuse a book written in language they understand and of a nature that is exciting to their age grouping. A book of such a class, however, usually is so far above a comic in price that its purchase becomes relatively rare. In the juvenile field some progress has been made by reputable publishers who have produced paper-backed volumes, nicely printed. There seems, nevertheless, to be a gap between the product supplied for the youngster under 10 and for the more adult reader. Providing suitable material for the group not now served might be as effective a method as any of reducing the appeal of those publications now under censure.

Prohibiting sales by law may curtail distribution of a certain type of printed matter. It is not, however, the most desirable means of directing young people to better reading habits. Some more constructive method should not be beyond the capabilities of Canadian publishers who seek a home market.

Still Showing Advances

PESSIMISTIC PREDICTIONS THAT were prevalent in the United States a few months ago regarding the continued prosperity of that great country would seem to be effectively answered by the figures for industrial production recently released. According to statistics compiled by the Federal Reserve Board in Washington, production in April was 89 per cent above the average for 1935-39, set at 100, and 10 points over the 1949 figure. At the time the figures were computed, May was expected to produce another two-point rise which would bring industrial activity close to the all-time peak registered in October and November, 1948. At that time, during the height of the postwar boom, the index figure reached 195. With employment totals showing a correspondingly favorable condition, the forebodings of recent months appear to have been wide of the mark. Canada, too, showing similarly prosperous trends, has lately been freed of the dismal predictions that featured last year's C.C.F. election campaign. Private enterprise seems to be still capable of producing the goods.

Color Problem

By CHARLES REID, from London

DISTURBED by the increasing size, contents and squalor of "colored" quarters in London and many of Britain's provincial ports and cities, the Colonial Office is convening a national conference of social welfare and church workers this month at which ameliorative measures will be discussed.

The idea behind the conference is that voluntary workers, directed by a national advisory committee, shall help government and municipal agencies in dispersing colored immigrants, finding them the right sort of job, teaching them English where necessary, persuading reluctant white landlords to give them welcome, dissolving the color bar wherever it is put up by workers or managements, staffing "colored" canteens, clubs, and so on.

THE colored population of any town, especially the African section of it, is more often than not morally quarantined. Colored people and their white neighbors look at each other with mistrust and hostility over an invisible wire fence. There are psychological sores on both sides. "It is these," argue the reformers, "which most need cure. Colored colonials, highly conscious and often proud of their status as British subjects, must be made to feel at home; they must be assimilated into white society, not cold-shouldered by it."

The Colonial Office move follows closely upon an investigation carried out during the past year by fieldworkers of the British Council of Churches in East London and several provincial centres. Some investigators say there are 30,000 colored workers over here. Others would put the figure at 50,000.

FROM the West Indies come men who served in this country (mainly with the R.A.F.) during the war and are paying their own passage back to Britain in hope of good jobs and a better living standard. These are the best of the incomers; as a rule they settle down, like the Malayan, Indian and Chinese groups, and give little trouble. At the other end of the scale are Nigerians, Somalis, Gold Coast and Sierra Leone natives who work their passage or come over as stowaways, either singly or in batches of up to 15 at a time. They are dressed in ragged European cast-offs. Often they cannot speak a word of English. The stowaways spend a month or so in prison, then huddle among people of their own race and language in the nearest colored quarter.

IN THEIR homelands they heard that any man may get rich in England. Their dream is to return to Africa, their belts stuffed with money, and set up as independent farmers. The way is not as easy as they imagined. On coming out of prison the dreamer gets a public assistance dole of 24 to 33 shillings a week, then a job, for example, as kitchen hand, gasworks laborer, restaurant porter. More often than not the color bar in hostels and lodgings sends him for a bed to the colored doss house, often run by a colonial, with men sleeping on pallets as many as four to a room.

Recreation he seeks in pitch-and-toss schools and in shady cafes where there are usually women hangers-on to rook him of his money. There is much quarrelling and violence. Knives and pistols are sometimes used. "The war," says an East End inquiry group, "has left a legacy of firearms, and the colored man clings to those as defence in an unknown environment."

OCCASIONALLY the newcomer finds his feet. "Some," say the Council's Liverpool investigators, "have gone into business and flourished."

In the view of some researchers, dispersal must be the first practical step. Men should, they hold, be taken out of the congested Harleims of Britain and with benevolent handling, be found jobs and homes in small groups all over the country. Only thus, it is argued, is there any hope of truly weaving this colored strand into the country's social fabric.

SAANICH SECESSION

Now that beer has been voted out of Victoria we can all get busy and vote Ward Six out of the Saanich Municipality.

There is far too much friction at council meetings due to the difference of rural and urban interests. We can't progress as things are today. Let the farming area run their own affairs and the rest of us can make the other part of Saanich better suit our needs.

FAVORS UTOPIA

In a recent issue of your paper there were two editorials; one with the caption, "Which one is Social Credit?" and, following this, "Making a Sound Economy." It appears that I was the spokesman referred to in the first, so would like to have the privilege of replying.

What I placed unusual emphasis on during the recent provincial election was the fact that the Union of Electors candidates did not represent any party, Social Credit or otherwise. This editorial states that many points of the social theory are abstruse to voters. There are many points of Einstein's theory of relativity that are not exactly clear to me but until I can, in all seriousness, say there are reasonable grounds for doubt as to the soundness of the theory, I am fair enough to agree that he could be right.

The main point about Social Credit is that it is not a theory. It is a fact. It is simply the power of human beings in association to produce the results intended, measured in terms of their satisfaction.

Now it should be obvious that we are not truly working in association when we divide into groups called parties. It is equally obvious that the more we divide the less power we have to obtain results. The only way we can possibly work together and achieve results is to have an unified electorate.

In the second editorial "Making a Sound Economy," the statement is made that the saving of three billion dollars in the last few years is at once the evidence of and a major contributing factor in our continued prosperity.

In the first place if there are three billions of dollars in savings it is evident that there are goods to the value of three billion dollars left unsold or unpaid for.

I will agree that we have a state of prosperity when:

1. No one can claim there is a housing shortage.
2. All Canadian children have all food, and particularly the first grade apples they require or desire.
3. Each of us have all the medical attention we require without the socialistic compulsion clause.
4. We are free to choose or refuse one thing at a time.
5. When all the shareholders (the 13 million Canadians) in Canada Unlimited are receiving a dividend instead of pouring good money after bad in the form of taxation.
6. When I do not have to worry any more about this thing, and can leave it to the editors of our papers and our "representatives" in Parliament.

Strength Of Our Democratic Way Lies In Common Man's Conviction

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

WE ALL know that when we pause to reflect on some event or events in our recent history, the happening or situation will be farther back in time than we at first realize. But while we accept that time is passing unnoticed, we do not accept so readily the fact that with the passing of time, new factors enter our lives, new situations are created.

NATURAL RELUCTANCE

Perhaps this is a natural reluctance to meet our troubles halfway, and perhaps this is the reason that many of us cannot really believe that our northern neighbor and former wartime ally, the U.S.S.R., is pursuing some seriously unfriendly purpose in its conduct of "the cold war."

It will serve our future well if we do not follow the path of least trouble, telling ourselves that, surely, things are never as bad as they seem and that in the end everything will turn out well.

One gentleman whose opinions about Russia and about Moscow's ultimate aim should receive attention and respect is Lt.-General Walter Bedell Smith, the former United States Ambassador to Russia. As the title of his recent book, "My Three Years in Moscow," suggests, General Smith has had ample opportunity to examine the aims and activities of the world's chief communist state.

In discussing whether or not the Red leaders want to make war on us, their former allies, General Smith states that both Lenin and Stalin have long tutored their followers that the world's people would some day be divided into two camps—the believers in communism and the believers in capitalism.

Stalin, says General Smith, had the choice at the end of World War II of seeking our continuing friendship or of dividing the world around these two hostile centres. Having chosen division and ultimate destruction of our capitalist society, the Kremlin now seeks every means possible short of war of destroying us; and, should circumstances require it and communist victory seem probable, Russia will be ready to attack us directly with arms.

Having reached this realistic conclusion General Smith does not suggest that we are fated to servility in a world united under the communist police state. Peace, says General Smith, is possible.

BEST ASSURANCE

In the General's own words: "It is impossible to escape the conclusion that the best assurance of peace is our strength and determination to support our convictions. . . . More than military and economic strength is required. The total strength of the nation embraces such factors as education and national health, family life and opportunity, and the incentive for individual achievement. That national strength rests on the passionate devotion of our people to the free way of life."

General Smith, of course, was addressing his own countrymen. His advice applies equally to this democratic nation.

PLUG FOR UNCLE JOE

Montreal Star

According to Sir Henry Dale, President of the British Council, British scientists found anti-histamines long before U.S. scientists made the announcement. Very interesting indeed, but we would like to put in a plug for the Soviet Union. If Russian scientists were not first in the field it's only because the Kremlin hasn't yet heard about anti-histamines. The day Uncle Joe does, Radio Moscow will announce the common cold got its biggest check back in 1931 from Tovarich Goddard who will promptly receive the Order of the Damp Hanky, Fifth Class.

If, by the way, anybody has got an anti-histamine that is effective, please address your inquiries this way.

By SIGRID ARNE

Associated Press News Analyst
(For DeWitt Mackenzie)

THE question of whether the 400,000,000 people of China will be represented in the United Nations by Communists or by the Nationalist government is going to cut a lot of different ways.

It looks now as if the decision may be taken this month in the U.N. Security Council. But it could be put off to the Assembly in September.

Whatever the date, here's the position the United States will take:

It will vote against seating the Chinese Communists. But it will not use the veto.

However, the U.S. will have to fight, inside the Security Council, for the kind of vote in which a veto cannot be used.

This is the first time the U.N. has been asked to decide this kind of issue. China is granted a permanent seat, as a major power, on the United Nations Council. The issue to be decided now will be what group of political representatives her in the U.N.

On this ground the U.S. will ask the Security Council to consider the issue as merely a sort of family decision, inside the Council; the vote would have to be only a majority vote—seven among 11.

No Veto could be cast. But there are plenty of U.S. officials—including several senators—who are concerned by the moral issues involved on that sort of vote.

When the U.N. votes to take in new members a veto can be cast, and Russia has cast several. She has barred, so far, membership for Italy, the Republic of Ireland and Switzerland, among others.

These three European countries all are governed by groups who were put into power by majority votes in the elections. On the other hand the Chinese Reds control their country by force of arms. Plenty of European governments have been willing to recognize such as accomplished fact.

DESTROYING PENSIONS

Winnipeg Free Press

That wise and experienced old gentleman, Mr. Bernard Baruch, recently said something which should be noted by all those who are pressing for social security in their old age. What use will it be, he asked, if old age pensions are increased "unless the spirals of inflationary policies and deficit spending are halted and pressure groups fought off?"

This obvious fact is generally overlooked by citizens who demand and legislators who vote larger old-age pensions. They tend to assess the value of a pension by the number of dollars it provides and, this, of course, is an entirely misleading calculation.

THE INCOMPARABLE "MIKE"

"Atticus" in The Sunday Times (London)

Mr. "Mike" Pearson, Canada's Foreign Minister, who is now in London, was the instigator of the famous "Clause Two" in the Atlantic Pact, which provides for peace-time co-operation in economic, industrial, social and political spheres as a parallel to military aid.

His boyish looks and athletic figure belie his fifty-three years. As Canadian Ambassador to Washington he showed unflinching prowess in consistently leading his "Pearson's Pen Pushers" to victory over the American State Department baseball team. And he has shown equal vigour and informality in his approach to the problems of a political career which he began only eighteen months ago.

His favorite definition of democracy provides the key to his outlook on life: "It is the 'Don't' in 'Don't Shove'; it is the hole in the stuffed shirt through which the sawdust slowly trickles; it is the dent in the high hat." Certainly there is nothing "high hat" about "Mike" Pearson.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"ONE of the first things," said the Elevator Man, "a visitor from Mars would notice about us is our passion for keeping lists of names. A lot of people spend half their time trying to get their names on some lists and keep them off others. A big part of our political and commercial activity is concerned with lists of names—voters' lists, tax lists, sucker lists, subscription lists, members' lists, non-members' lists, social lists and a hundred other kinds. It'll be nothing new for us when the roll is called up yonder. We've been answering to lists all our lives. Going up!"

"Of course," said the Elevator Man, "the system isn't perfect. Like everything else lists often contain mistakes, and that can lead to trouble. They say a lot of political prisoners in East Germany are in concentration camps just because their names got on a list through confusion with someone else's. Lists that disappear can cause trouble, too. In California a burglar made off with a file of 1,000 women's names from the office of a lonely hearts organization. No telling what might come out of that. He shouldn't have many free evenings for a while, anyway. Lower Main!"

"And in Italy," said the Elevator Man, "I see where a crowd of women raided a tax-collector's office and burned all his records. They said they were tired of paying taxes, and wrecking the files looked like a good way to get out of it. You can just hear them telling each other: 'At least his list is lost at last.' I wonder how that sounds in Italian."

Nazi-Style Tortures And Beatings Take Heavy Toll Of Prisoners Under Communism

By RICHARD LOWENTHAL From Hamburg

INMATES of a Soviet zone concentration camp in Bautzen, Saxony, have smuggled out an appeal to the western world, calling for every possible intervention against atrocities there against some 6,000 political prisoners.

Their letter, read out at the Social Democratic Party Congress here, reports that conditions have become much worse since the camp was handed over from Russian to German Communist control. Brutal Nazi-style beatings by the People's Police are now swelling the death rate, already high owing to unsanitary conditions and starvation rations.

GUARDS RETALIATE

When it was announced at the beginning of February that the concentration camps would pass into German hands, the east zone authorities promised that most of the prisoners would be released and the remainder quickly tried by proper courts. According to the letter, nothing of the sort has happened at the overcrowded Bautzen camp and the inmates, many of them suffering from tuberculosis and other malnutritional diseases, have twice protested against the continued uncertainty of their fate by opening the barrack windows and shouting so loudly that attention was aroused throughout the surrounding area. After the first "revolt" on March 13, a commission of Russian and German police officers appeared and promised that all their grievances would be remedied, but nothing changed except that rations were further cut.

The second revolt, on March 31, was provoked by a new order once again forbidding "for the time being" the reception of visitors and parcels—both of which had been promised. Here, in the words of the letter is what happened:

"The old and the young, the sick and the infirm—former victims of Nazism—and war cripples were man-handled with truncheons, leather belts and kicks in such a manner that hundreds are still lying in bed with heavy head wounds, broken bones or wrenched limbs. The police guard, reinforced by an alert unit from the Czech border, carried out this action according to a plan, entering one barrack, with 400 prisoners, at a time and driving the defenceless, hunger-weakened prisoners in the most brutal manner with blows along the corridors and out of the doors, throwing them down the stairs at the end.

"Even the prisoners' physicians (there are no state doctors in the camp), who tried to protect their patients, were ruthlessly struck down with truncheons so that the blue-uniformed gangsters could vent their bestiality on the sick.

"Far more than half the inmates had to pay for their outcry for help with heavy injuries, pain and blood. One hundred and seventy-two Peoples' Police-men under 16 officers, acting in the presence of high-placed gentlemen in gold-covered uniforms, beat up the defenceless people in such a manner that some victims had an eye knocked out, some are still unconscious or have lost the faculty of speech. But even if some of us will have to pay with our lives—as there is little chance to make good the loss of blood on this diet—at least we have shown before all the world the face of the regime as the devilish grimace that it is.

"You, free people in western Germany, ought to have seen how 'politically reliable' lads of 18 or 20 beat the 'new socialists' into men who have given their all to the Socialist movement, how sick people are thrown out of their beds and beaten with truncheons—deeds worth of a regime that ended five years ago."

APPEAL FOR HELP

"We appeal to all Germans on both sides of the border—to all parties and organizations, to the churches, the Red Cross, and the League of Human Rights, we call on all democrats, all the people of the free world: hear the cry of 6,000 tortured and starving prisoners who see in you the last hope for themselves and their families."

"We call on the civilized world: we do not want, to fall victims to hunger and tuberculosis, we do not want to perish slowly like helpless animals."—O.F.N.S. copyright.

60TH BIRTHDAY

History Of Hospital Told In Book

On May 31, 1890, the Royal Jubilee Hospital was incorporated and a special 54-page diamond jubilee edition of the "Harmonizer," monthly publication of the employees' association has been issued.

Each department head delved into history to contribute an article to the magazine.

According to the "Harmonizer," the first hospital in the city was established in 1858 in a building at the corner of Yates and Broad Streets. The same year, a hospital was constructed on the site of the present Industrial Reserve. It was known as the Royal Hospital and remained until 1869.

In that year the Royal Hospital and the Female Infirmary united and took over the site of the latter near the present location of the Christian Science Church.

In 1887, a committee which included Hon. Robert Dunsmuir was formed to raise funds, purchase land and erect a hospital building. The corner stone was laid two years later, and in May, 1890, patients were transferred to the new building on the present site of the hospital.

THE HOME GARDEN

Tarpaper Best Control For Cabbage Maggot

By JACK G. BEASTALL

From inquiries received in the last few days, the cabbage root maggot seems to be giving trouble in some gardens.

This is a small white maggot which feeds on the roots and its presence is indicated by the yellowing, wilting, and drooping of the leaves in early spring and summer.

Radishes and turnips are also the prey of this pest, their burrows, or tunnels, being found in the edible portion of the roots.

The adults resemble the ordinary house fly though smaller in size. The puparia, which compares with the chrysalis stage of the butterfly, will be found digging in the spring. In size and color it appears as a grain of wheat.

On emergence, eggs are laid on the soil adjacent to the stem of the plant. Hatching takes place in from five to seven days and the maggots penetrate the soil and attach themselves to the roots.

To make things more difficult for the home gardener, all the flies do not emerge at the same time. In fact, the process may continue for more than a month by which time the early ones are almost mature.

It is particularly stressed in horticultural circular 32 (Provincial Agriculture) that, because of this repetition throughout the season, some eggs are laid every day from April to September.

USE TARPAPER

Control starts when the plants are set out, the simplest form for the home gardener being a square of tarpaper laid on the soil around the plant stem. A hole is cut in the centre and a slit made to one side to facilitate placing after the plant is set. The smell of the tarpaper discourages the fly.

Corrosive sublimate, one tablet to a quart of water, may be used, pouring about one-quarter pint around the base of each plant. Three applications at 10-day intervals are necessary. Remember that this is a virulent poison, and may be mixed only in earthenware, glass or wooden containers.

ECHO OF 1886 FIRE IN DEATH

VANCOUVER (CP)—Joe Thomas, a 95-year-old Indian who remembered crossing Burrard Inlet in a dugout to watch Vancouver's great fire of 1886, is dead.

During the height of the blaze, Joe was fond of telling his friends, he rescued a family which had sought refuge in a well.

The Indian, oldest resident of the Mission Indian reserve near suburban North Vancouver, was taken ill only a week ago and died in hospital here.

Careless driving charge against Earl Brown, Baza Bay, Sidney, was dismissed by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon.

Year Needed If Proposal For Age Pensions Adopted

OTTAWA (CP)—It would take perhaps a year for Canada to put into effect a universal contributory scheme of old-age pensions, Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor, told the parliamentary committee on old-age security.

While he declared universal coverage was desirable, Mr. MacNamara advised it could not be achieved "overnight." He was testifying Thursday as the committee continued studies aimed at drafting a new pensions policy.

To bridge the gap between the present system and one to which all would contribute, Mr. MacNamara suggested a method, based on a combination of the existing machinery for unemployment insurance and federal government annuities.

His proposal was that the unemployment insurance facilities might be used to collect contributions from wage earners, while the self-employed would have to buy a modified form of annuity.

The deputy minister, who said he was putting forward these ideas as his personal views, suggested contributions covering the first group would be on an employee-employer-government basis. In the case of the self-employed, they and the government would contribute.

Dog Man's Pack Reduced But Many Still To Go

Frederick Smith, the 77-year-old pensioner of 3502 Calumet Street, has made some progress to reduce his pack of dogs.

Before Magistrate H. C. Hall, in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon, the British army major of World War One was able to report that he had disposed of "about half of them." A dog trainer at Nanaimo had taken 15 off his hands "and others have gone to other ladies and gentlemen."

Magistrate Hall wanted to know just how many Mr. Smith had left. The dog-lover wasn't certain. Resting his elbow on the court bench, he meditated on this problem, with his hand stroking his chin.

Anyway, it appeared the number ranged somewhere in the neighborhood of 10 to 15, most of them small ones—puppies.

Mr. Smith explained that if he couldn't get rid of the remainder in a few days the S.P.C.A. would take them.

Jury Acquits Cranbrook Man

CRANBROOK (CP)—An all-size court jury Thursday night acquitted Paul Whitehead of murder in the Feb. 27 knife slaying of his cousin, Clarence Sebastian, 27. The jury deliberated two hours.

Whitehead's statement to police that he had killed Sebastian was admitted as evidence by Mr. Justice J. M. Coady.

In testifying in his own defense, Whitehead said his cousin lunged at him outside a cafe and he remembered nothing more until he was back in the cafe with the knife.

Parliamentary Group Wrestles With Knotty Pension Financing

By GORDON E. LEIGHTON
Times Ottawa Representative

OTTAWA—It's back to wartime income taxes if some of the proposals for financing old age pensions ever receive the green light from Parliament.

Our talk on these is not confined to millions but hundreds of millions of dollars. Indeed in some cases a billion, for a few more cyphers don't seem to mean much in our estimates. But what a problem for those who have to define the means of financing the country!

In a few days' time the committee on old age security which has been wrestling with the problem of old age pensions will go into secret sessions. Hitherto all its work has been done in open hearing. The evidence is pretty well all in; the last submission will be thankfully put aside shortly and there follows the main job for which the committee was set up.

What a job that promises to be! The committee has to decide what form of pension to recommend to Parliament and if possible what method of financing. Committee members have in large measure, perhaps, made up their respective minds on what pension and at what age this shall become payable to recommend.

But financing it is something else again. Current proposals that a general pension up to $40 monthly generally applied, and without means test, is said to be decidedly premature since the committee has not yet come collectively to grips on the matter. But none would be surprised if a recommendation to this effect emerged from their secret studies in the next two weeks.

Representations from all sorts and descriptions of individuals and organizations have been studied during the past few weeks. Some are impossible and some indefinite. Those of the more responsible organizations presented to the committee are summed up in the table following:

Organization	Effective Age	Monthly Payment	Means Test	Amount Needed Yearly	How to Obtain
Can. Life Ins. Officers' Assoc'n	70	Unstated	No	Pay as you go tax basis.
Can. Chamber of Commerce	70	$30	No	$242,820,000	All must contribute.
C.C.L.	65	$30	No	$660,840,000	Graduated inc. tax.
Can. Manufac.	68-70	Adequate	No	---	All contribute, inc. employers and employees.
T.L.C.	65 men 60 women	$50	No	$720,000,000	Assessment on personal incomes.
Can. Welfare Council	70, 65 for aged	$40	No	$385,000,000	Contrib. on basis ability to pay.
B.C. Old Age Pensioners	60	$30	No	$979,140,000	No suggestion.
United Elec. Radio Machine Workers	60	$50-$62.40	No	$800,000,000	General revenue. (Est.)
Dom. Foundries and Steel	60	On basis of accrued credits	No	No estimate	Contribute 5% workers, 10% net profits of Co.

Obviously the greatest problems attached to all the above are those of finance. Any too idealistic solution of the amount to be paid to individuals and the age of commencement may founder on the unyielding rocks of practicability as regards money.

So acute is this phase of the matter that it has been suggested the committee may side-step it. It would, in that case, recommend a pension plan and leave the question of ability to pay up to the government, where in the ultimate it would rest anyway.

NO AUCTIONING

Warnings in the committee not to conduct a sort of auction mart have been given in the course of deliberations by their own members. Something within the bounds of practical finance is, of course, essential with the thought ever in mind that the payment will be made from the funds of the workers and producers.

Whether it be by income tax, by joint contributions, by a special sales tax, or any other means, there's where the money will come from. For a pension of $40 monthly at age 70 there will be a drag on personal incomes of from 3.2 per cent in the case of those earning around $2,000 to 2.7 per cent of the $5,000 annual income class. As a flat annual contribution the tax would be $40 for all adults below benefit age. As a sales tax it would represent an additional 5.6 per cent on the retail price.

NOT JAILING DOUGS AT PINCHI LAKE

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has decided against the purchase of a mining camp property in northern British Columbia as a prison for law-breaking Doukhobors, an official said today.

An abandoned mining camp at Pinchi Lake was among properties considered but turned down. The only property the government is interested in is that located at Comox to imprison Doukhobor women.

"There are still a lot of questions to settle, such as water and other local facilities," the official said. "But if we get this camp organized, we will have sufficient prison facilities to handle all law-breaking Doukhobors in the British Columbia area."

Veterans' Insurance Now Available At Local D.V.A.

A complete service on both returned soldiers' insurance and veterans' insurance is now available through the Victoria office of the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

The service includes applications' insurance, preparation of death claims, change of beneficiary, change of premium payments, cash surrender of policy, adjustment of coverage, and general counselling service on both types of insurance.

Trained counsellors are ready to assist veterans in the selection of the type of policy best suited to their needs. Service is also available to assist the beneficiaries in obtaining prompt settlement of death claims.

Expiry date for acceptance of applications under the Veterans' Insurance Act is Feb. 20, 1951, or six years from date of discharge, whichever is the later date. The benefits are available to all veterans, or widows of veterans, and to certain classes of merchant seamen, corps of fire fighters and auxiliary service supervisors with overseas service.

No medical examination is called for, except in special cases, and the total disability clause provides added protection at no additional cost. Premiums for the five classes of insurance available can be paid in several ways, such as monthly, yearly, quarterly or by deduction from pension.

Return Of Islands To Japanese Favored By Top U.S. Officials

WASHINGTON (UP)—Some top U.S. officials now favor the return to Japan of some of her prewar island possessions. It was learned today.

Islands involved include some of the Ryukyu chain stretching from Formosa to the four main islands of Japan. Okinawa, now a bastion in the U.S. Pacific defense line, would not be affected.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson disclosed last January that the United States, "at the proper time," would ask the United Nations for a trusteeship over the Ryukyus.

Some of Acheson's advisers indicated they do not consider U.S. control of the entire chain essential to American security. They believe the trusteeship can be confined to Okinawa and outlying islands required for auxiliary bases, radar stations and other purposes.

They suggest that the northernmost islands, including the relatively large islands of Tanaga Shima and Yaku Shima, could be returned to Japan.

The latter two islands lie north of the 30th parallel. According to some definitions, they are not part of the Ryukyu group, but for practical purposes U.S. officials apply the term "Ryukyus" to all islands between Formosa and Japan proper.

Under terms of the Japanese surrender, the victorious Allies limited Japan's sovereignty to the four main islands of Honshu, Hokkaido, Kyushu and Shikoku and "such minor islands as we determine."

The U.S. attitude on this and other issues which must be settled if any Japanese peace treaty is swayed by a conviction among top State Department officials that Japan must emerge as a strongly anti-Communist and pro-western nation.

Says Shipyard Pay Hike Put Jobs Out Of Reach

If Yarrows Ltd. met wage and other demands now being made by the Victoria Joint Shipyard Council, the resulting increase in operating costs would make it impossible for the yard to obtain any work other than emergency repair work, William E. A. Barclay, paymaster at the firm, said today.

Competition in the shipbuilding field is particularly keen at the present time, he observed.

"In an attempt to obtain employment for the present staff of the shipyard, the company has submitted extremely low figures on several proposals, including some for China and India, in order to compete with prices submitted by eastern Canada, European and Asiatic countries," Mr. Barclay said.

The Victoria Joint Shipyard Council, representing seven trade unions, announced Wednesday its intention of asking for a 15 cents an hour wage boost and six extra paid holidays for its 400 affiliate shipyard members at Yarrows's shipyard would notify the unions concerned it was prepared to extend present work agreements for another 12 months without change in rates of pay or working conditions.

East-West M.P.'s Fight Boost In Freight Rates

But Federal Cabinet Not Likely To Take Action To Disallow Board's Decisions

OTTAWA (BUP)—Western and maritime members of Parliament rolled up their sleeves today for a day-long battle in the Commons over rising freight rates.

But government sources said they were not likely to make much progress.

An informed source said the government was not likely, no matter how long and loud the objections, to take any action to stop Canadian railways from boosting their freight rates shortly to a new postwar high one-fifth above the 1948 levels.

The day was set aside by House leader Alphonse Fournier, public works minister, to debate a recent Board of Transport commissioners' decision to allow the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways and their subsidiaries to jump their freight rates 20 per cent. The railways asked for the 20 per cent boost two years ago, and fought the case through several board rulings and Supreme Court decisions.

MISTAKE ADMITTED

Last March, the railways were given 16 per cent increases. But they went back to the board, claiming it had made a mistake in its calculations. Last week, the board admitted the error and gave the railways the full 20 per cent.

Western and maritime members immediately set up a protest in the Commons. They claimed the east and west were bearing too great an economic burden already, having to pay heavy freight charges for goods shipped from the main manufacturing centres of Ontario and Quebec.

Clarence Gillis, C.C.F., Cape Breton South, one of the maritime members preparing to wage war against the board's decision today, believed a system of equalized charges should be levied by manufacturers.

Under his plan, the manufacturers would adjust their prices across the country so that buyers in Toronto or Montreal would pay the same price for nationally-known goods as buyers in Sydney, N.S., or Prince Rupert, B.C.

Under Board of Transport legislation, the government has powers of disallowing any of the board's decisions. This power had been exercised only twice, when the government felt the board had erred in its judgment.

But informed government sources said this time the power would not be used.

All provinces but Ontario, Quebec and Newfoundland opposed the freight rate case in the hearings.

The freight rates issue went before the Commons after a day of House debate on historic sites, national parks, monuments and kindred subjects.

Housing, one of the principal responsibilities of the resources department, was pushed to the bottom of the list as members from all sides appealed to Resources Minister Robert Winters for special consideration of their local historic sites and parks problems.

Toastmaster Speech Competition Here

Three hundred delegates from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and B.C. will gather in the city Saturday to attend the first Canadian convention of Toastmasters at the Pacific Hotel.

In addition to the Pacific northwest zone convention, a speech contest will be held with the winner to compete in the Toastmaster international convention finals at Spokane in August.

Speech contest banquet will commence at 7 in the evening. Mayor Percy George will welcome the delegates. Awards will be made by E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister of trade and industry. Contestants from Vancouver, Bellingham, Salem, Spokane, Twin Falls and Missoula, Montana will compete.

100 FIRES SET BY YOUTH

VANCOUVER (CP)—Arrest of a "fire bug" who has admitted setting more than 100 fires during his 22 years, was reported by provincial police.

The youth, whose name was not revealed, is charged with arson in the burning of a chicken coop and a garage in the Fraser Valley.

The police said additional charges will probably be laid in connection with a rash of mysterious fires in Vancouver.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The body of an unidentified man was dragged today from the Fraser River in Richmond municipality. Police, who said the body had been in the water for "about a month," said the man was between 55 and 60 years old.

The 125th Boy Scout Troop, Seattle, will be the guests of boys and leaders of the Oak Bay Scouts this week-end. The Seattle boys will arrive in Victoria on Saturday and remain until Sunday.

Saturday evening there will be a general rally at St. Mary's Hall, followed by a "Father and Son Dinner."

Sunday morning at 10.15 the Scouts will take part in a church parade. They will march to the skirts of the pipes, provided by the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band. Also on the program for the Seattle Scouts is a sightseeing tour.

An exchange of visits has become a tradition between the Seattle troop and the Oak Bay Scouts.

LORNE MAIN NAMED TO TENNIS TEAM

Vancouver Star To Play Against Aussies In July

MONTREAL (CP)—Selection of Brendan Macken and Henri Rochon of Montreal and Lorne Main of Vancouver as playing members of Canada's 1950 Davis Cup team, which opposes Australia in a first-round American zone tie at Montreal July 20-22, was announced today by Laird Watt, chairman of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association's selection committee.

He indicated that a fourth player will probably be named at a later date after the selection committee has had a chance to see other leading team candidates in action during the current season.

Appointment of Gordon MacNeil of Montreal as non-playing captain of the team was announced recently.

All three players named today were members of Canada's 1949 squad which bowed out to Australia by four matches to one in a series featured by Brendan Macken's brilliant five-set win over Billy Sidwell. The win provided a great lift to Canadian tennis throughout the country. Main performed creditably in taking a set from Sidwell in the Vancouver youngster's Davis Cup debut.

PASS UP TRIALS

"It is apparent that, in the opinion of the selection committee, the performance of Macken, Rochon and Main last season, and in the winter months, has established their superiority over other Canadian players in such a manner that the time and expense of team trials can be avoided this year," stated Watt, who also has wide experience as a Davis Cup player.

Strong contenders for the fourth position on the Canadian team, on the basis of the 1949 ranking, appear to include Jim Macken of Montreal, ranked No. 3, and recent winner over Rochon in a Montreal indoor event, Walt Stohberg of Vancouver, a member of Canada's 1948 and 1949 teams, Jack Spencer of Montreal, Don Bauld of Halifax, and Billy Green of Vancouver.

Champs Beaten In Bowling Play

In the Wilkerson Shield doubles contest for the Greater Victoria championship held on Beacon Hill greens this week, the titleholders for the past two years, Sam Barr and Steve Cole of the Canadian Pacific Club, went down to defeat before T. Smellie and H. Herbert of the Victoria Club.

Other first-round results follow:

Marchant and Chapman beat Newton and L. Campbell.
Baker and Turner beat Pasmoro and Mercer.
Harrison and Keating beat Catroli and Martin.
Lynne and Talack beat T. Campbell and D. Davidson.
Smellie and Herbert beat Barr and Cole.
Troup and Morris beat Davidson and Asquith.
Tindle and Jackson beat Eastwood and Westwood.
Gahan and T. Owen beat Delgrosso and Bryant.
Fridley and Philbrook beat Hastings and J. Patterson.
Landon and Evans beat Watt and McBride.
Pee and Maddison beat Eastham and Kinner.
Baxandall and Borman beat Husband and Bette.
Allen and Dewar beat Baker and McKeen.
McIntyre and Davis beat Delf and McIntyre.

The winners will play the second round on Beacon Hill Park greens on Tuesday evening.

Terrific Batting Slumps Hit Stars In Major Ball Campaigns

NEW YORK (UP)—Nightmarish slumps were taking their inevitable toll among major league baseball players today with Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees among the leading sufferers.

Williams, at 286, was 57 points behind his 1949 batting average, and DiMaggio, at 256, was 90 points off last year's figure.

Despite their sub-standing batting marks, however, both Williams and DiMaggio have come well in the matter of runs batted in. The slender Red Sox slugger has driven home 41, second only to teammate Vern Stephens' 47, while DiMaggio has knocked in 31. The biggest slumper among major league regulars is Roy Sievers of the St. Louis Browns, the American League's 1949 rookie-of-the-year, with Mickey Vernon, the Cleveland Indians' veteran first baseman, close behind.

Sievers, batting a miserable .202, is 104 points behind the .306 he hit in his freshman season, while Vernon, bogged down at .191, is an even 100 points short of his last year's mark. Both have been benched periodically, but have shown little signs of improvement upon their return to the line-up.

Bobby Doerr of the Red Sox, Willard Marshall of the Boston Braves, Jerry Priddy of the Detroit Tigers, Bobby Brown of the Yankees, Eddie Robinson of the Chicago White Sox and Carl Furillo of the Brooklyn Dodgers are other stars who are mired in slumps which find them far below their 1949 pace.

Among the pitchers, Russ Meyer of the Phillies, who won 27 games and lost eight in 1949, his last nine victories coming in succession, has taken the biggest slumps to date. The slender, 26-year-old, right-hander has been knocked out of the box in all six of his starts and has a 0-5 record for the season.

Central Figure In Football Match

Key man on the pitch at Athletic Park last night as England met Victoria for the first time in international football play in 11 years was goalie Bill McAllister of Victoria All-Stars. McAllister was busiest man on field at times and made some remarkable saves. Typical of the plays he was called on to make sees McAllister grabbing loose ball in front of Victoria net with John Kennedy, centre half, left, Jack Robbins, left half, and John McMillan, right half, giving the netminder good protection. England won the match 3 to 2.

INTRODUCTIONS, HANDSHAKES and the usual fanfare preceded the exhibition football game between England and Victoria at Athletic Park last night. John "Red" McMillan, right halfback of the Victoria team, meets Joseph Richards, council member of the Football Association and chairman of the Barnsley Football Club. Richards is one of the officials in charge of the English team, H. H. Hughes, vice-president of the Football Association, being the other. John Kennedy, Victoria captain, is the other local player.

Albion Cricketers To Meet Oak Bay

The Victoria and District Cricket Association has two matches scheduled for Saturday and one for Sunday.

Albions meet Oak Bay at Beacon Hill at 2.15 and Alcos tangle with the Cowichan Cricket Club at Duncan. On Sunday Seattle will entertain Five C's. Oak Bay lineup: Sparks, Parkins, Deane, Abbott, Gauvreau, Wright, Stone, Doidge, Scott, Lee, Davison.

Brooch Holders In Women's City Golf Finals

Elizabeth Paynter and Mrs. H. T. Matson of Colwood Golf Club, who last week won the E. D. Todd Ladies' Golf Brooch, met today in the finals of the city women's golf championship.

Miss Paynter upset the defending champion and tourney medalist, Mrs. Margaret Todd, yesterday at Uplands in the semifinal round, 4 and 2. Mrs. Matson gained the final bracket with a 3 and 2 triumph over Mrs. R. Bearsto.

All-Stars Fail To Respect English XI

McAllister Takes Shine Off Tourists' Triumph

By BILL WALKER

Frankly, I was disappointed. I'm not exactly certain what I expected to see from an English Football Association representative team, but somehow I didn't see it.

True, they outplayed the Victoria All-Stars by a wide margin during the game which they won 3 to 2.

No one will deny that Stanley Matthews at 35 years of age, too, is all we heard he was, and more. It's also a fact that the English team's positional play was almost perfect and the players individually and as a team exhibited marvelous ball control.

Their anticipation at all times, even to the point of successfully diagnosing Victoria plays in advance, left little to be desired. They were seldom hard pressed on defence and on offence controlled the ball about 80 per cent of the time.

But something was lacking.

McALLISTER SHINES

It might have been the inspired performance of Bill McAllister in the Victoria goal which took some of the lustre away from the vaunted tourists. It may have been the dogged determination of the All-Stars, if they had to lose, to go down fighting and as a result reached heights hitherto unobtainable, or it could have even been the fact that in the backs of the visitors' minds was that 4 to 4 tie in Vancouver. And slightly worried over that terrific scare left just enough of their expected polish in the dressing-room to leave some doubt, however slight, as to their true ability.

Nevertheless, despite this unimpressive performance from the English team's viewpoint, the game itself resulted in a moral victory for Victoria.

The All-Stars, though getting few opportunities to score, both goals coming from penalty kicks by young Jack Robbins, never cracked under the strain of playing the giants of English football, a representative XI. And for a time at least it looked like the locals might just have enough left to force the visitors to accept a tie.

One of the most remarkable features of the game was the tremendous kicking of goalkeeper Stan Hanson. And it was from a goal kick that the tourists got their first goal at the 12-minute mark of the first half. Centre-forward Charles Vaughan accepted the better than 60-yard boot and went right past the Victoria defence to beat McAllister cleanly.

Minutes later McAllister made a sensational save over the bar save from Vaughan while diving horizontally along the turf and shortly after cheated the Charlton Athletic centre-forward of another goal from a header in front of the net.

TIE SCORE

Fifteen minutes before the breather referee George Barnes whistled a penalty against an English defender for elbowing and with Robbins taking the spot kick Victoria tied the score.

It wasn't until the seven-minute mark in the second half that England could again dent McAllister's armor, inside left Ed Wainwright blasting a pretty three-way passing play with Matthews and Jack Sewell. Then at 31 minutes the most controversial play of the game occurred. Left winger Ab Travis fairly charged England's netminder Hanson, and probably slightly annoyed, the Bolton goalie retaliated with a shoulder charge which resulted in Victoria's second penalty of the match.

Robbins again made no mistake with a low shot to the corner and the thoughts of a tie game was uppermost in the minds of the some 4,000 fans who contributed $6,000 to witness the match.

Realizing that all prestige would be lost with another draw decision marring their Canadian tour record, the English side struck with determination and three minutes later were rewarded when Vaughan headed the ball past McAllister into the corner of the net.

The score might have been worse if it hadn't been for burly Bill, the transplanted Scottish net guardian, who was sensational on at least four shots.

HENRY PLAYS WELL

But just a word here for an Indian boy, Herman Henry. Virtually unknown and unsung, Henry made his mistakes early in the game, but was the best local player on the field at the finish.

He had to be. He was checking the English team's leading scorer of the tour, Johnny Hancock, and he did a wonderful job. Hancock, who scored four goals against Vancouver, was more than effectively blanketed by Henry.

Naturally the Victoria backs had the biggest chore and they handled their assignment admirably. Little Murray Speller had an interesting evening chasing Stan Matthews around but he never quit trying.

Red McMillan was his usual tireless self. John Kennedy and Robbins both played well while the forward line didn't have much chance to shine, being on the defensive most of the time. Victoria didn't win but they did get a couple of firsts. They got the first shot on goal and also the first corner.

CUP SOCCER ON WEEK-END BILL

Heywood Avenue will be the scene of two week-end soccer matches.

Saturday, Canadian Legion and Oak Bay will meet in a replay of their first round Province Cup match. The first game ended in a 1 to 1 tie.

On Sunday Heaney's will clash with Duncan in the Price Cup final.

Both games start at 2.30.

OLD-TIMER LIKES MODERN TREND

The Old Timers may be "old" as the term implies, but at least one member of the club will be "modern" on Saturday night for the benefit baseball game against the Victoria High School team.

This particular individual will be the first player in Victoria to model the newest style in baseball suits as exhibited earlier this season by the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League. The attire must be seen to be appreciated. Mere words cannot describe this newest of fashions.

The game will be played at Athletic Park as part of the benefit program being arranged by the High School students. First event is scheduled for 8.

Henrich Has One Worry—Wear, Tear

BALTIMORE (AP)—A doctor told Tommy Henrich today the main trouble with his sore knee is something beyond cure-age.

"After 13 years of baseball he told me I've got to expect some wear and tear," the 33-year-old New York Yankee veteran reported after examination by Dr. George Bennett.

It was the second time in less than two months the noted healer of baseball players' ailments looked at the left knee of one of the game's greats.

"No change, no change," repeated Henrich coming out of the office after an hour and a half.

"He just told me to go on playing as much as I wanted and to take it easy as much as possible. No special treatment."

The Britannia Branch No. 7 Canadian Legion carpet bowlers will hold their annual social evening in the auditorium, Blanshard Street, tonight at 8 for the distribution of prizes and awarding of trophies won during the past season.

FROM THE FANSTAND

By PETE SALLAWAY, Times Sports Editor

Soccer past, present and future. That was the sole topic of discussion as one intermingled with those present at Wednesday night's banquet for the touring English players and officials. Attending my fourth dinner for a team from across the Atlantic I could pick out many familiar faces who have been associated with the game locally, provincially and nationally for more years than some of them would like to admit.

Sam Davidson-On Hand Again

It was no surprise to greet that dry-witted fellow from Winnipeg, Sam Davidson. He's a cinch to be present any time there's a touring team on hand. One of the stalwarts of the Dominion Football Association, Davidson is usually given the job of tour manager. In view of the flood conditions in his native city I thought Sam might be among the missing.

"Yes, I was flooded out with six feet of water in my home but managed to get the family settled in time for me to go east and meet the touring team," Sam told me. "Will have to wait until I get back to learn the extent of the damage."

When we questioned Sam about the match in Vancouver it was to be greeted with a terrific blast about the condition of Callister Park. "A city the size of Vancouver should be ashamed to ask any team to turn out on such a pitch. It's an absolute disgrace and I wouldn't blame any club for refusing to perform on that field."

Old John Likes Victoria

Still as jovial as ever was John Russell, member of the B.C. Soccer Commission. After being subjected to a lot of good-natured ribbing about the quiet life we Victorians live, Russell was forced to admit the island was a great place in which to settle down. "I know it was before your time, but I will remember playing water polo up at the Gorge some 45 years ago," Russell told me. "Even as far back as that I toyed with the idea of making my home in Victoria but just never have been able to make the break. There's one thing you people do well over here and that is develop good swimmers. This fellow Peter Salmon looks like a real comer."

One of the newcomers I met up with was Bob Kennir, another member of the B.C. commission. Discussing the future of the Pacific Coast League, Kennir forecast that within five years New Westminster would again be at the top of the heap in the provincial picture. Leaning across the table he cracked at Russell: "John, I'll lay you 3 to 1 that in a very short time New Westminster will be beating the Vancouver clubs regularly." Russell agreed with him.

United's Future Not Bright

Sitting on my right was Bill Findler, secretary of the Pacific Coast League. I questioned him about the prospects of Victoria United remaining in the circuit. "Right now it doesn't look good," was his reply. "We in Vancouver realize the handicap the Victoria team faces through having to pay out heavy traveling expenses from every home match but it's a situation we can't do anything about. I honestly think the United would be better off to attempt to organize an island league and play four league games against the Coast League elevens during the course of a season."

V.A.S.C. Makes Strong Bid In City Title Meet

The Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, which during the past few years has been pushed into the background by the more illustrious exploits of the Flying "Y" swimmers, will make a strong bid for honors in the city swimming championships at the Crystal Garden Monday night.

Their senior men's team for the 25-event program will be built around Bill Doddridge. He will swim in the 200-yard freestyle and the 100-yard backstroke events. Miles Deighton and Bill Langford will also enter the freestyle and backstroke with Ernie Massick and George Peterson doing the breaststroking.

Joan Kelter and Kay Burnett should provide the nucleus of a strong junior women's section while Lyla Blaus and Robin Clarke are the ranking members of the junior boys' division.

The V.A.S.C. team to compete in the meet will be chosen from the following:

Under 10—Judy Mezger, Diane

Says Football Clubs In West 'Going Crazy'

TORONTO (CP)—Bob Moran, president of the Toronto Argonauts Football Club said today that "our club couldn't begin to match some of the fabulous salaries" which he said western football clubs are spending for gridiron talent.

"I'm inclined to believe they're going crazy out west," Moran told a luncheon for club members and sports officials tendered by Harry Doughty, new member of the Argo executive.

Moran was referring to some former Argo stars who have trekked west, but he didn't mention any names. Outstanding among these is Royal Copeland, now with Calgary Stampede.

"Football is a business proposition, as you all know," said Moran. "But who in business would expend money knowing full well that at the end of the fiscal year they had to suffer a loss? That's what it amounts to out west. They're spending money they haven't a hope of recovering."

Up From Down Under

Shamrocks Bid For First Place Tie

In a race as close as the next, second Victoria Shamrocks can move into a first-place tie in the Inter-city Lacrosse League at the Memorial Arena tonight.

Hosting the Vancouver Indians, with whom they, Burrards and Salmonbellies are tied for the league runner-up spot, two points behind the New Westminster Adanacs, the locals enter the fray riding a two-game win streak.

New Westminster Salmonbellies last night knocked off the Burrards, 15 to 11, to put the four teams in a second-place tie. Richmond, thought last, are only four points away from the leaders.

Coach Arnold Ferguson of the locals will probably go with the same line-up for tonight's game

Marion's First 'Big' Homer Gives Cards Win

Old St. Louis Cardinals never die. Take Marion for instance. For 11 major league years, Mr. Shortstop went quietly about his business. Never did he hit a home run with the bases loaded.

Never, until Thursday night. Marty waited until they really needed one. With Brooklyn in town and the Cardinals scrambling to wipe out the May 18 horror of blowing an 8 to 0 lead and losing 9 to 8, Marion hit his grand-slam homer. The resulting 5 to 2 victory hoisted St. Louis into a first-place National League tie with the Dodgers.

Howie Pollet, another Cardinal of 1941-42 vintage, backed up Marion's clout with a five-hit pitching job.

Philadelphia Phils and Boston Braves both closed in on the Dodgers and Cards with afternoon victories. The Phils racked up Chicago 8 to 4, moving to within a half game of the leaders.

BIG HOME RUN

Sid Gordon's grand-slam homer started Boston on its way to a 14 to 2 rout of Pittsburgh. It was the Pirates' ninth straight loss, their longest losing streak in 11 years.

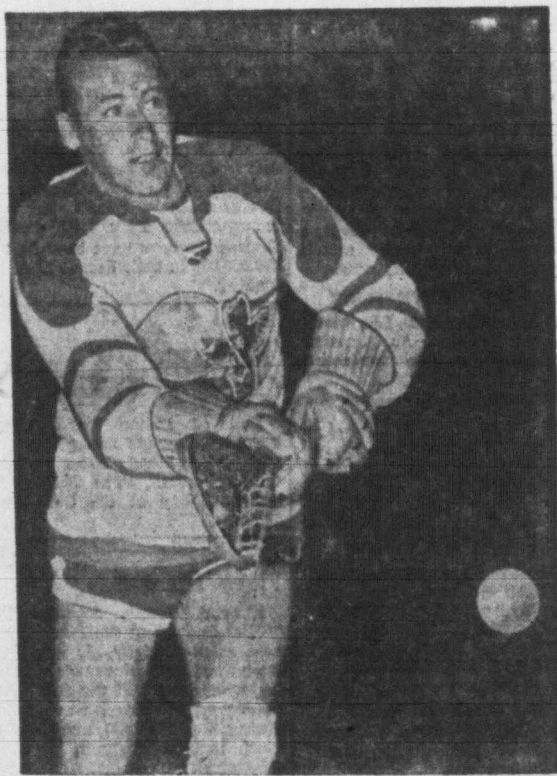

Cincinnati and New York split a twilight-night doubleheader with the Reds taking the second game 5 to 2 behind Ewell Blackwell. A four-run rally in the ninth inning gave the Giants the

Athletics Drop Second Straight In Band Box

Capilano Stadium is still giving Victoria Athletics trouble. Last night at the Vancouver bandbox the A's dropped their second straight to the Capilanos, this time by an 8 to 7 count, the Caps coming from behind to turn the trick.

The A's got off to a good start when Jim Wert hit a three-run homer in the first inning. Caps got a single tally back in their half but the A's jumped into a 5 to 1 bulge in the second with another two tallies.

Vancouver kept pecking away and finally chased starter Jim Frost from the hill in the third with a four-run rally. The A's tied it up in the sixth with a brace of markers, but three walks by Warren Noyes and a fielder's choice let in the winning run in the seventh. It was the first appearance for Noyes, who was recently acquired from San Jose. John Marshall has been named to hurl for the A's tonight and he will be opposed by George Nicholas.

Tomorrow manager Marty Krug will probably shoot his two lefties, Aldon Wilkie and Jim Hedgecock at the league's seventh-place club. Meanwhile, Tacoma won another game to add to its league lead. The Tigers trimmed runner-up Salem, 8 to 5, as Bob Kerrigan checked in with his ninth straight victory.

Wenatchee dumped Spokane Indians, 6 to 3, and Yakima whipped Tri-City, 8 to 2, in other games.

Sensational Bowling Feat By Jim Laker

LONDON (Reuter) — Jim Laker, Surrey's off-spin bowler, accomplished one of the most remarkable performances in cricket history when he took eight wickets for only two runs in the test trial match at Bradford Wednesday.

Put in to bat by Norman Yardley, the England captain, The Rest were all out in 110 minutes for 27 runs, the lowest total in first-class cricket since 1947, when Gloucestershire dismissed Somerset for 25 at Bristol.

Though comparative figures may be misleading, many people will regard the dismissal of eight men for two runs as the best figures ever to be recorded in first-class cricket.

Certainly no bowler has taken eight wickets as cheaply. The previous best was eight for five runs in 16 overs by E. Peate of Yorkshire against Surrey at Holbeck near Leeds in 1883.

Soviet Vessels On Mystery Trip

These are two of the 31 Russian fishing vessels that anchored off the Isle of Wight, England, ostensibly waiting out rough weather spell. When nine British warships steamed off for manoeuvres with French and Dutch naval units, the fishing fleet went south toward the Mediterranean and the Black Sea.—(NEA Photo)

Pacific Islands' Output Of Phosphate Restored

Plants Wrecked By Japanese On Nauru And Ocean Islands Again In Production

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—One of the biggest postwar reconstruction jobs of the Pacific has reached an advanced stage on the phosphate islands of Nauru and Ocean, which lie just below the Equator.

These islands, vital to the great farming industries of Australia and New Zealand, were wrecked during the war by German raiders, Japanese bombers, and lastly by U.S. bombers and capital ships during the Japanese occupation.

Their output now is equal to the highest prewar record and may exceed that figure during the present year.

Phosphates from Nauru and Ocean islands are the largest source of fertilizer for pastures in the intensive dairying industries of the two southern dominions. They became a major target for the enemy in the war. Two German raiders sank shipping off the islands and smashed the great loading equipment. Then the Japanese captured the islands and occupied them for the later years of the war.

When the Japanese were driven out after three years it was clear that on Nauru, the phosphate settlement would need rebuilding completely, and that the phosphate quarrying, transport, drying and storage plant would have to be entirely re-planned.

Tram lines had been ripped up by the enemy, sleepers being used for firewood and rails cut into short lengths for building machine-gun posts and pill boxes. Great cableway towers had been toppled over and cut into lengths for building underground shelters. Costs of conveyor belt had been cut up and used as floor covering.

Engineers of the British Phosphate Commission, which controls the island, found ways of using much of the damaged steelwork, as replacements were extremely scarce in the immediate postwar years. They also redesigned the plant to make greater use of mechanical handling, thus speeding up production.

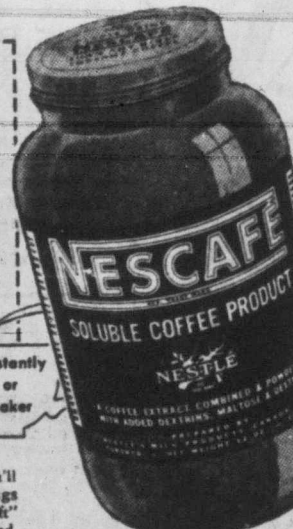

Greatest engineering feature of Nauru was the huge loading cantilever which jutted out to sea, enabling vessels lying off-shore to be loaded with phosphate at high speed. Although badly damaged by enemy action, the vital parts of the cantilever almost miraculously escaped destruction. Repairs took a long time but engineers improved the loading rate in the process.

Before the war phosphate could be shipped at the rate of 550 tons an hour into a vessel's hold. Now it can be delivered at 1,600 tons an hour. As a result a 10,000-ton vessel can be fully loaded in a day.

37 Egyptians Want To Swim Channel

CAIRO (AP) — Thirty-seven Egyptians yearn to swim the English Channel this summer.

But only four, perhaps six, will qualify for a go, said Col. Mohammed Sabri, chairman of the Egyptian long-distance swimming committee.

Col. Sabri, a doctor in the Egyptian Army Medical Corps, coached two Channel winners in 1949—Hassan Abdel Rehim and Marel Hassan. He also supervised the six-man relay team which swam the distance in 11 hours 11 minutes last year.

"Our efforts this year," Col. Sabri said in an interview, "aim at two specific events—the Channel relay race and an international relay race."

The Daily Mail offers a £1,000 ($3,100) prize to each of the winners of a men's and women's France-to-England race. Col.

LAWYER HAD THE MONEY

REGINA (BUP) — A befuddled lawyer in court here dug himself into a verbal hole and pulled the earth in over his head.

Appearing for a light fine for his client, the lawyer said: "He hasn't any money. I've got it. So you see he's in bad shape."

Sabri plans to enter four men in the event.

"The relay," Col. Sabri said, "may develop into a four-nation race. Great Britain last year agreed in principle to enter a team. Fernand Dumoulin, the Belgian who swam the Channel in 1949, has promised to try to enlist a Belgian team. We have asked France to participate."

This year, Col. Sabri said, will mark a new trend in Channel swimming. "So far it has been made up of individual attempts against the clock." Now it is becoming a competitive event."

Bubble Trouble In Cheshire Town

STOCKPORT, Cheshire, Eng. (CP) — This town has an epidemic of bubble trouble.

So many homes and factories in the district are using soap substitutes that the plant that disposes of the waste water can't "break it down."

Instead the machine is blowing bubbles—"as big as this," said Alderman A. Foulkes, waving a clenched fist.

It's the size of the bubble that's causing the trouble. And there are hundreds of them. Some of the spheroids are two feet in diameter.

Said the disposal plants deputy manager, E. R. Jones: "They're likely to terrorize the countryside for miles around. Besides, they're liable to be reported as flying sausages."

on the TIMES

By ART STOTT

GREGORY CLARK, for years a Toronto Star staff member and now one of Canada's better-known freelancers, can write entertainingly on almost any subject. He has a homey but sensitive touch. When it comes to fishing, he steps out of character a bit to ride the sunset clouds of poetry. Clark, his friends say, has probably the best angling library in Canada. When he visits foreign soils he makes pilgrimages to famous fishing haunts and to the craftsmen who make famous tackle.

That gives you some background for the article he has written for the magazine The Seigneur on "la chasse aux truites," or trout hunting. Clark tells a fascinating story of a still evening in late May or early June, when trout, big ones, dimple the water as they pick stray insects from the surface. That's when the hunt begins. The fisherman sets himself in the front of his canoe and the guide sends it noiselessly toward the cruising trout.

CLARK TALKS of keeping his line in the air, of false casting continuously, and then dropping his fly on the dimple 40 or 50 feet away. It's the sort of thing a rank amateur dreams about when he first tries to fly fish—thinking someday he'll have the expert's touch, will have mastered a fine art. But it isn't for me.

In the first place, nobody will go in a boat with me when I'm casting. Too dangerous. They just laugh from the shore when I try to untangle my hook from the back of my sweater. After two seasons' practice I can get my line in the air, but it moves like a comet. The way I lay a fly on the surface, they call me Little David, the guy with the sling and the stone. I can appreciate the silly evening. I can sense the big trout lying just below the surface. I'm not without enthusiasm when the spectators leave me alone. But fly fishing just doesn't seem to be my dish.

JUST WHEN I think I've done pretty well, when the line's sailed out double the length of the rod and the fly has landed in the general direction I wanted, a voice of ridicule floats out from the beach: "That's right. Scare 'em to death and we'll pick 'em up with landing nets."

Maybe if Mr. Clark would come out west and give me a few lessons—but I dunno.

These flatfish lures are pretty good, and why should a fisherman pamper a trout with fancy lures on a hook? Why credit fish with too much intelligence?

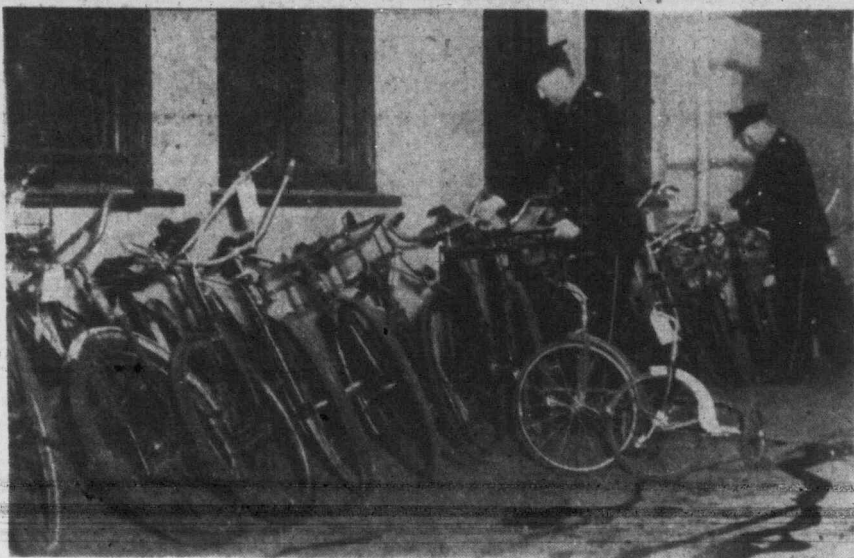

WHEN IT COMES to putting a little glitter on the beaches, there's nothing like an uncrushed load of garbage dumped too close to shore. The empty cans and bottles floated into Gonzales Bay this week, bright and dancing on the summer waves. Last year the sands were decorated with signs warning the public away—polluted water unfit for bathing. There are citizens to be some pretty irate citizens if the swing is back to returning refuse this season.

Gonzales used to be Foul Bay, and there was a perfectly honest explanation for the name. It was Foul because of the reefs there, not Foul because of an old chicken farm. Try to tell that to a bath-picking his way through garbage scum where sand and sea meet after the scow has metaphorically or literally cast its bread on the waters.

VICTORIA'S bigger population is making more demands on the beaches. People want to go to them to sunbathe and enjoy an afternoon's relaxation. The city recognizes that, and has taken steps to clear up the pollution and garbage problems. How necessary that action has become is shown by the return to shore of the empty cans and bottles this week.

It's good to see a civic appreciation of the need for changes in sewer and garbage methods. It's not so good to note the change in public attitudes to the time-honored craft of beachcombing. There was a time when anyone who trod the sands understood the rules of the beachcomber. If a log or plank had been salvaged from the water and drawn up on the shore, it belonged to someone, and should not be touched by anyone else. It was just as private as if it had a sign on it. If a pile of bark had been gathered, but not sacked, it was somebody's property, too.

THE MODERN generation doesn't seem to understand that. What's on the beach, its members think, belongs to anybody. The rules don't seem to count any more. Changing times, changing customs. There once was a time, too, when Victorians didn't bother to lock their doors at night.

Police May Auction Unclaimed Bikes

There are about 80 bicycles at the city police station waiting for owners, and unless they are claimed soon, Police Chief John Blackstock will apply to the City Council for permission to sell them at auction. The bikes have been accumulating for a long time, taxing storage space at headquarters. If persons who have lost a bicycle in recent years can identify their machine in the collection, they may take it away. "So get down here in a hurry and see if yours is here," police are saying.

Three Sister Nations Have Cause For Optimism, Declares Mayhew

"If there are three countries in the world, with cause for optimism, they are Canada, Australia and New Zealand."

That was the message of Fisheries Minister Robert Mayhew, paying a short visit to his home in Victoria after traveling 56,000 miles in the past five months. Speaking of the three sister nations of the British Commonwealth, Mr. Mayhew said each had a lot of development work to do and a progressive type of people to do it.

He thought the chance for building up trade between this country, Australia and New Zealand was good. He said the Canadian trade picture at the present time was brighter than it has been for some time as there were more dollars in the dollar pool of the sterling nations.

Of Australia, from where he has just returned from a conference on economic aid to Asia, the minister said, "Australia is a big country like our own but its population is even less than here. Opportunities are good. There is no unemployment."

The minister said wool and wheat were talked about in Australia as lumber, pulp and wheat were talked of in Canada. With respect to business at the Sidney conference, Mr. Mayhew said nations represented took second steps in building up an organization to assist Asiatic countries to rehabilitate themselves. Final steps will likely be taken, he said, at a further conference in September in London.

Mr. Mayhew is scheduled to leave Victoria for Ottawa Saturday evening.

Name Chairman In City Dispute

The city was notified today of appointment of Alex MacFarlane of Victoria as chairman of an arbitration board on a dispute between the city and the City Hall Employees' Association, Local No. 4.

The matter concerns an opening in the purchasing agent's department, which one of the present clerks wishes to fill and the civil service contends the clerk in question has not sufficient qualifications for the job. P. S. Watt will represent the city and W. M. Black the association.

SCOUTS PROMOTED

One of Victoria and district's newest Scout troops held an investiture this week.

After Jim Gardner had been invested to the post of Scoutmaster, he invested Peter Sparks, George King, Ken Aylward, and Murray Johnson into the brotherhood of Scouts.

Two other boys, Norrie Todd and Del Moore, were awarded patrol leader badges during the outdoor ceremony.

Unity Sought For All Canada On Traffic Law

Police Chief John Blackstock of Victoria will leave the city tonight to attend the organizational meeting of the B.C. Bureau of Traffic Safety in Vancouver tomorrow.

One of the aims of the bureau is to support the plan of unified traffic laws for all provinces of Canada.

Purpose of the bureau is to set up a central advisory council of 25 men who are outstanding specialists in finance, organization, legislation, highway and traffic and publicity with functions to cover the province.

Senator J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., will be chairman of the meeting.

Purpose of the bureau is to devise methods to better traffic conditions throughout the province. Slogan is "Make B.C. Highways Safer for Our Citizens."

In regard to this Chief Blackstock said he favored unified traffic laws for the whole continent so that when Canadians visit the United States they will not be confused by strange laws and vice-versa.

Goldenberg To Prepare Brief

H. Carl Goldenberg, lawyer-economist, arrived in Victoria today from the east to take over as special counsel to the B.C. government in respect to preparing the brief this province will submit at the Dominion-provincial conference to be held in the fall.

"I don't know exactly what the brief will cover," he related. "The agenda for the conference has not been set."

Mr. Goldenberg speculated, however, that Dominion-provincial tax agreements and nationwide social security would be major issues.

Most immediate concern of the lawyer was to find a place to set up office in the Parliament Buildings. With overcrowding a complaint in almost every department, space is at a premium. Mr. Goldenberg will work on the B.C. brief all summer and will attend the fall conference with government leaders when it is presented.

He said today he intended to look into experiences of this province since the signing of the first Dominion-provincial agreement and also to study economic and social development at this end of the country during the postwar period.

ABANDON BIDS ON FIRE HALL

With all bids above the amount included in the city's 1950 budget for the new $15,500 fire hall in James Bay, all tenders were thrown out and new ones will be called for, Ald. Frank Mulliner said following a meeting of fire wardens' committee Thursday afternoon.

The architect has been instructed to arrange modification of original plans and call for fresh tenders, which the committee expects will be submitted to next Tuesday's council meeting.

New Duty On To Protect Growers Of Local Lettuce

Duty on imported lettuce changed yesterday. The former duty was 10 per cent of the value, while the new duty is 1 cent per pound or an actual increase in price of 50 cents per case to the wholesaler.

Retailers say their prices will go up in accordance with the wholesale rate as soon as new supplies have to be obtained.

The new duty is a seasonal one put on to protect local growers. Stocks of local lettuce are not yet plentiful enough to supply the present demand. Wholesalers say that it will be one or two weeks before prices will be brought down much by home growers' supplies.

DRIVER FINED

Pleading guilty to a charge of careless driving, Harry O. Fowler, 835 Selkirk Street, was fined $35 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. Charge was laid against accused on May 19 when policemen saw his car weaving from one side of the street to the other on Government.

Higher Offers From U.S. Given As Reason For Advances In Canada

Beef and pork prices are still climbing, according to city wholesalers. Retailers say that prices will naturally increase along with the wholesale price, although some say they will carry the few extra cents cost for the time being.

City butchers report they have been feeling buyers resistance for some time. One butcher was of the opinion that consumers were not buying as much meat, while another said that customers were sticking to cheaper cuts like stewing beef and minces, which are selling at around 60 cents a pound.

More expensive roasts are selling at anywhere from 75 cents to $1 a pound. Choice beefsteak is selling at about $1 a pound. Bacon, pork chops and other pork products are expected to rise in price, as are beef products. Spring lamb will be later this year due to the long winter. Prices on lamb are expected to be higher when the spring slaughter begins.

High prices are attributed to the U.S. market, which is paying more at the present. The American dollar which is worth $1.10 in Canadian funds is another reason.

Judge Sets Bail At $2,000 For W. Caron

Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court today approved bail for William Leo Caron, who was committed for trial by Magistrate H. C. Hall Wednesday on a charge of breaking and entering the store of Harry E. Jones, 1315 Government Street. Bail was set at $2,000.

'BEST PUBLICITY YET'

Warren Pleased With 'Ford Times' Feature

"That's the best piece of publicity we have ever read from any source."

That was the way George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau described the eight-page article in the June issue of the "Ford Times," published monthly in the United States, on "Vancouver Island: Vest-Pocket Continent."

In a letter to Mr. Warren, Edmund Ware Smith of Shin Pond, Maine, managing editor of the publication referred to a trip he made to the city 20 years ago at which time he and Mr. Warren traveled to different spots on Vancouver Island.

He said the circulation of his booklet was 1,500,000 and the number of readers bordered 16,000,000.

260 ENQUIRIES

The article has already produced 260 enquiries from holiday-planners in almost every state in the U.S., Mr. Warren noted. Letters had been received as far south as Texas, southeast as Florida, northeast as New Jersey and north as Alaska.

The article was illustrated with several natural color photographs of Victoria and Vancouver Island scenes.

Reassessment Of Saanich Starts

For the purpose of equalizing taxation, the reassessment task started Thursday in Saanich in the inner area. F. C. Mann had been employed for the work. He has done appraisal work for the Dominion government.

Another appraiser is to be hired. Each will have an assistant. Council has set aside $5,000 to start the job this year.

Creams And Oils Necessary To Induce An Even Suntan

By PENNY SAVER

"By the sea, by the sea, oh, how tanned we will be," a la par-boiled lobster, too, if we're not careful. Take it easy, say the rules for sun worshippers, there's no need to emerge after your initial sun tanning of the season with a face like so much shoe leather.

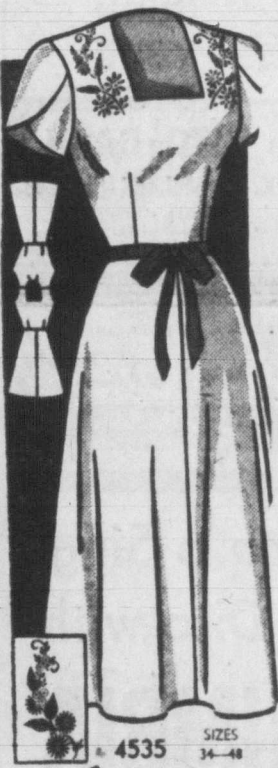

Chatting with one clerk at a cosmetic counter this morning, she contends that all anyone needs to do to obtain a golden tan, instead of a burn, is apply a cream or oil before stretching out in the sun. Never, never, try to tan without some protection for your skin. As a matter of fact when creaming your face, don't stop at the cheek bone, but continue on up to your lower eyelids.

Suntan oils and creams will cost you anywhere from 30 pennies up. There are two types of oils, in case you hadn't heard, and I hadn't, that will induce a tan. One oil definitely leaves you with a dark tan and the other, a light touch. After your first application of the cream or oil don't hide the bottle away in your purse, renew the application as it is absorbed. By the way, if you are one person who doesn't use lipstick, better take some kind of protective pomade along to the beach with you. Your lips, without the aid of a cream can be sheer agony if burned by the sun's rays.

Absorbent cotton can be taken from the medicine cabinet to do double duty for your eyes. Shape the cotton into pads and, once dipped in your favorite lotion, place them on your lids.

Hold on to your bonnets while I tell you about a new lipstick that comes to us all the way

Refurnish Cabin At Sunshine Camp

A group of Rotary-Anns with their husbands, under chairmanship of Mrs. A. Lindsay, spent last Sunday at Sasenoos, re-roofing, repainting and refurnishing from top to bottom, a cabin at Sunshine Camp, which the auxiliary has taken as one of its projects. Hammers and paint brushes were wielded by the men, while the women undertook the making of drapes, bedspreads and bedding.

from Paris. Not only does it not smear, or come off on coffee cups, but it will still be firmly set after a dip in the ocean. That's it kids, it's indelible! It is applied like any other lipstick, but within 20 minutes it will set and stay on for almost the whole day.

For brunettes, this new lipstick offers such fascinating shades as Bourgeois, a blue tone, or Grosselle. The latter shade is a perfect foil for your navy or pastel shade blue ensemble. Both blondes and brunettes will take kindly to Rivoine. Cyclamen, though, is a magnificent shade for the fair-haired lassies. Red-haired women will choose Claire or Moven, but of course the shade of lipstick depends on the color of skin.

The sum of $2.50 will buy you the black and silver tube . . . refills are $1.50 . . . but, my, think of the lipstick you'll have by having to put on but one application during the day!

Democratic Freedom Brings Obligations

"Citizenship" was theme of address given by Mrs. L. Fraser, at a meeting of Strawberry Vale Women's Institute, held at home of Mrs. C. White, 1200 Butte Street, with 15 members present.

The speaker pointed out that every citizen has a four-fold obligation as part of the price of domestic freedom. First, to develop a co-operative spirit including self-control, understanding, tolerance and a firm insistence that government shall follow a course toward the greatest good to the greatest number; second, to be informed and alert; third, to study civic projects and activities and to vote, and fourth, to pay allotted taxes willingly but also to keep a vigilant watch over tax systems and government expenditures.

"In paying this price for freedom," the speaker said, "there is a three-fold reward in our high living standard, personal liberty and widening influence in world affairs."

Mrs. E. E. Smalley was in the chair and the club took up a special collection for Winnipeg Flood Relief. A card party held in the institute hall the same evening raised $24 for the flood victims.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

The problem of the extraordinary tall girl child brought a lot of letters from readers with a similar problem. It is inevitable in a world in which there is much variation that children will have to learn to adjust themselves to their individual differences. It is unquestionable that adults have much to do with the success of such adjustment.

Mrs. R. F. A. has managed this successfully with her tall daughter, and would like to tell mothers how she has done this. She writes, flatteringly, "I have a feeling that much of your 'wisdom' has been gained by experience and not just book-learning. Your column is so down-to-earth. I would like to help ease the worries of mothers of tall daughters, by telling them my experience and I'll wager after they know it, they will write to confirm it."

"Our oldest girl was 48 inches and 60 pounds at five years. On her sixth birthday she was 51 inches and 67 pounds. She is solid and slender and has never known a sick day, not even one of the children's diseases. Both of my children were breast-fed for nine months. They come from tall parents and I admit there were times when I wished I were not a head taller than any of the members of my class."

"I realized soon enough that there were many more tall women these days and that it really was not bad at all."

"Now, with my own child so tall, we are trying to make her proud of her tallness so she will stand straight and erect."

"When people comment about her tallness we say, 'Isn't it lovely she is so straight and tall?' I know from experience that a child's whole outlook can be ruined by an adult's constant comments and comparisons."

"I want to do the best to give my daughter a happy childhood without rushing her into adolescence, because of her premature growth."

"Our girl has gone through three different clinics and the doctors have found her to be a fine specimen and not an alarming freak. If mothers after such examinations find their daughters to be physically o.k., then be proud of them."

Good for you. And thank you for discerning my own ample experiences under my cloak of "expert."

Our leaflet No. 4, "Information for the Nursing Mother," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldrid in care of this newspaper.

Sidney Rotary-Anns Attend Luncheon

Special guests at regular meeting of Victoria Rotary Women's Auxiliary, held Thursday in Terry's dining-room, were 14 Rotary-Anns from Sidney, who were welcomed by auxiliary president, Mrs. J. L. Hobbs, and presented with small colonial corsage bouquets.

Corsage bouquets were also presented to Mrs. Walter Fletcher, wife of Victoria Rotary Club's retiring president and Mrs. George Duck, wife of the incoming president.

A surprise presentation of a corsage bouquet in club colors, purple and gold, was made to Mrs. Hobbs.

Final plans were made for a garden party on June 14 in the Children's Garden Library grounds on Tattersall Drive.

Guest speaker was T. E. Morrison, department of transport, and his subject, "Aids to Navigation."

Garden Tea At 'Woolston' Next Week

Mrs. J. L. Hobbs, right, and Mrs. W. S. Emmerton, district commissioner, will act as hostesses at the garden tea planned by Central District Girl Guides at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs, 3880 Hobbs Road, Cadboro Bay, next Wednesday afternoon. Divisional commissioner, Mrs. F. W. Midgley will open the affair at 2.30. Afternoon tea will be served and there will be stalls of home cooking, cut flowers and fruit, white elephant, candy, fish pond and lemonade.

Crisp Salads, Frosted Glasses, Special Luncheon Treats For Warm Weather

OTTAWA (CP)—Sticky June weather makes people think of things like tall, frosted glasses and crisp salads when they think of food.

It's time for the housewife to toss up such concoctions as frozen fruit salad as a special luncheon treat. Incidentally this is an excellent dish to serve the weekly bridge club when your turn comes around.

Ingredients: one cup stiff mayonnaise, three cups stiffly whipped cream, one teaspoon gelatine (dissolved in two tablespoons boiling water), three cups diced fruit (pineapple, canteloupe, bananas, cherries, and so on).

Combine the whipped cream and mayonnaise. Add gelatine and fruit. Put in mould and place in the refrigerator for at least four hours. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves with mayonnaise or fruit dressing.

Grapefruit salad—Ingredients: 1½ Tablespoons gelatine, one quarter cup cold water, one-half cup boiling water, one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons lemon juice, one cup apple (cut in cubes), two cups grapefruit pulp and juice, one-half cup pecans, broken in pieces.

Soak gelatine in cold water for five minutes. Add boiling water and sugar. Stir until dissolved.

Add apple, grapefruit, nuts and lemon juice. Mix thoroughly. Put into individual moulds which have been dipped in cold water. Chill. Remove from moulds and arrange on crisp lettuce leaves. Garnish with whipped cream dressing and whole pecans.

As a refreshing dessert after a heavy meal mother might be able to coax the refrigerator to produce some apple ice cream.

Ingredients: Two cups grated apples (four medium apples), one-half cup fruit or fine granulated sugar, one-half pint whipping cream.

Grate the unpeeled apples.

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix: Is it too late for this wife? From the moment of marriage she changed from a winsome, agreeable girl to the proverbial ball and chain. She became tyrannical, her opinions were always right and her husband's wrong. She became a whiner and a nagger, always complaining over her lot in life, although her husband was an excellent provider and kind and considerate. During the course of their 10 years of marriage the man's life has been a veritable hell on earth and the result is he has taken unto himself the "other woman," for which I do not blame him.

Do you think that the wife can win his love again? Do you think she can undo what she has done?

A FRIEND.

Answer: I don't think the wife has a chance on earth of ever re-instating herself in her husband's affections. There is nothing so dead as a dead love. Nothing so impossible as to conjure up again an illusion that has been dispelled.

THERE ARE PREVENTIVES

I get so many letters from wives asking how they can revive the interest of the husbands who have tired of them, how they can regain the affections of the husbands they have lost. I know of no miracle that will turn a bored and disgruntled husband into an impassioned lover again, but I know many preventive remedies that will prevent this catastrophe from happening.

For virtually every man is in love with a woman when he marries her, and she can keep him that way 99 times out of 100 if she is willing to take the trouble and make the sacrifices it requires.

But she cannot nag him. She cannot henpeck him. She cannot make scenes and have hysterics. She cannot tyrannize over him. She cannot go about looking slovenly and dirty. She cannot feed him on bad cooking and keep a house that looks like a pigsty. She cannot be cold and indifferent to him and show him lack of affection and appreciation, and expect him to remain in love with her.

And when she has killed his love, she cannot expect to revive it. It is too late then.

Bermuda is divided into nine separate communities known as parishes.

Stewardess Made Many Friends In 26 Years On Coastal Run

DIGBY, N.S. (CP)—In 26 years as the only stewardess aboard the 4,000-ton Canadian Pacific Steamships' Princess Helene, Mrs. Janet Beckwith of Saint John, N.B., has met thousands of people and traveled more than 786,000 miles across the Bay of Fundy.

"But things never get monotonous," says the tall woman, immaculate in white and ever ready to help with a warm smile or friendly greeting.

Mrs. Beckwith's day begins at 6.45 a.m. when the Princess Helene prepares to begin its 24-hour run to Digby. It ends at 8 p.m. shortly after the vessel completes the return trip to Saint John.

During the war she handled thousands of Canadian servicemen and she has been nursemaid to hundreds of infants and small children. Her chief delight is caring for children, which she finds less bothersome than some adults.

To answer all the mail she receives from grateful travelers she would need a secretary. Possibly the secret of her popularity is her genuine feeling towards others. "I've yet to meet someone I could say I didn't like," she says.

Mrs. Beckwith has met many notables during the trip across the "Bay." Included are General Dwight D. Eisenhower, the late Ramsay MacDonald, a one-time Prime Minister of Britain, the late Sir Montague Norman, British financier, and Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Her knowledge of first aid has been extremely useful. But so far she hasn't played the part of midwife though she has had a number of close calls.

Only on Sundays is Mrs. Beckwith a true landlubber. That's her one day at home when she does her housekeeping and week's baking.

Celebrates First Birthday

The bonnie wee son of Lieut. M. A. Turner, R.C.N., and Mrs. Turner, pictured above with his mother, celebrated his first birthday at a party yesterday afternoon given by his grandparents, Col. and Mrs. M. W. Turner, at their home, 1684 Yale Street, Oak Bay. Mrs. Turner is spending the summer with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Jenkins, William Head, while her husband is on duty in the United Kingdom and in the United States. Young Michael is holding a silver replica of the ship's bell used at his christening when Lieut. Turner was on duty with the United States Navy at Norfolk, Va. The miniature bell sent to the baby as a memento from commanding officer and officers and men of the U.S.S. Cone. At the birthday party, Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Alfred Styles presided at the tea table which was centred with Iceland poppies in a silver vase. A special birthday cake decorated in blue and green and topped with a single blue candle was cut for the young principal. The guests numbered 40.

Now At Home After Seattle Trip

Mr. and Mrs. David Maxwell Crockett have returned from a wedding trip to Seattle and Vancouver, and are making their home at 588 Toronto Street. Mrs. Crockett is the former Ruth Ellen Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Morgan, Wollaston Street. Her husband is the son of Major and Mrs. M. Kirkpatrick Crockett, 322 Robertson Street.—Photo by Joncas Studio.

Girl Guides, Scouts Plan Penny Fair

Through combined efforts of James Bay and Fourth West Cathedral Girl Guide Companies and Second Cathedral Boy Scouts, a penny fair will be held Saturday at 7.30 in Memorial Hall, Vancouver Street.

Half of the proceeds will be sent to the Winnipeg Boy Scout and Girl Guide Flood Relief.

Games of skill, novel side shows, home cooking, candy, flower and miscellaneous stalls will be among main attractions and there will also be an information booth and bootblack boys to give shoe shines. Refreshments will be served and there will be a door prize.

In charge of arrangements are leaders Doris Lancaster, Lucie Carpenter, Dorothy Williams, Bonnie Stoba, Art Hadfield.

King's Daughters' Vote Donation To Flood Relief

A donation was voted to the Winnipeg Flood Relief Fund at the regular meeting of the King's Daughters held recently with President Mrs. W. Bremner in the chair.

It was reported circles are knitting and sewing for Veterans' Hospital, Family Welfare and Children's Aid Society and sending parcels of food and clothing to Britain.

A new junior circle called "Goodwill" was organized recently.

It was also reported that the King's Daughters' cabin at Sunshine Camp is being redecorated and members voted a donation to the Reid Fund.

P.-T.A. NEWS

Cordova Bay—J. Walstell presided at the May meeting of Cordova P.T.A. V. Goddard, treasurer, reported a sum of $69.52 taken at the May tea, and $10.89 from sale of hot dogs. A nominating committee of Mrs. R. Swift, B. Lawton and Rev. H. Day was named. Mrs. R. McIntosh entertained with two songs accompanied by Mrs. R. Cleland. Colored slides of local wild flowers were shown by Mr. Goddard, after which refreshments were served.

Willows-Monterey—A June tea and garden party will be given by Willows and Monterey P.T.A. Associations next Wednesday from 3 until 5 at the home of Mrs. Harold Husband, 3150 Rutland Road. General conveners are Mesdames C. Ivings, J. Stobart, F. G. Matkin and E. Tucker. The dining-room will be in charge of Mesdames E. Showers and G. Dawson, and entertainment, featuring music and dancing by pupils of both schools and display by the Oak Bay Girls' Drill Team, is being arranged by Mesdames W. J. Brookbank and J. M. Gelling. There will be stalls of home cooking, candy, pop, ice cream, a lucky dip and a grocery basket.

Pre-Nuptial Shower Parties Honor Miss Mary Moilliet

Miss Erica Nicholson, who will attend Miss Mary Moilliet as bridesmaid, at her wedding to Mr. William Ernest Smith this month, entertained for the bride-elect, at a kitchen shower last evening at her home, 1760 Kilsber Avenue.

Corsage bouquets were presented to Miss Moilliet and her mother, Mrs. T. McMoilliet. Shower gifts were placed in a clothes hamper. Early summer blossoms centred the tea table where Mrs. Moilliet presided at the urns.

Other guests were Mesdames W. C. Roberts, J. Rooney, Theodore Waters, Bill Griffin, G. Owen, J. L. D. Smith, B. Johnston, F. R. F. Nicholson and Misses Joan Roberts, Bee Rooney, and Brenda Gibson.

A miscellaneous shower given by Miss Bonnie Stoba, 1625 Hollywood Crescent, further complimented the bride-to-be. Gardening and red roses in corsage were presented to the honoree with her gifts in a miniature wishing well. Mrs. Moilliet received pink roses. Invited were Mesdames A. Hunt, J. Boughey, J. Allan, F. Nicholson and Misses Norine Keatley, Betty Keatley, Mickie Mickleborough, Hilda Smith, Frances MacIvor, Betty King, Ruth Hall, Lavender Allen and Erica Nicholson.

Farewell Tea Given For Miss Armitage

Miss Mary Armitage who is leaving the city today for Ottawa where she will make her home, was guest of honor last Saturday at the tea hour in the Empress Hotel when friends gathered for a no-host party. Miss Armitage was presented with a picture of a Victoria scene.

Presiding at the attractively appointed tea table was the honor guest's mother, Mrs. H. W. Armitage, Royal Oak. Others present were Mrs. C. Irvine, Mrs. J. E. Baines, Mrs. D. F. O'Leary, Misses Pam Alder, Hilda Smith and Shirley Ross.

Miss Armitage is well known in musical circles here, has taken part in the Starlight Theatre chorus and also in aquatic performances with the Aqua Nymphs. As a member of the staff of Central Mortgage and Housing, she is being transferred to the Ottawa office.

Her parents are accompanying her to Seattle today and she will stop to visit relatives in Chicago and Detroit en route.

Rear-Admiral H. G. de Wolf, R.C.N., Flotilla Officer Pacific Coast, and Mrs. de Wolf, are entertaining early-evening tonight with a cocktail party at Admiral's House, H.M.C. Dockyard.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shallcross, of Vancouver, well-known visitors to this city, left today for Seattle, where the former is attending a conference of certified public accountants. Mrs. Shallcross will visit friends in the Puget Sound city.

Mrs. W. Graham, 2730 Shelbourne Street, was honored Sunday at her home by more than 30 relatives and friends, on the occasion of her 90th birthday. Mrs. Graham, who arrived in Victoria on the Coronation Day of King George V, came to Canada from London. The nonagenarian cut a birthday cake especially decorated for the occasion. She was presented with a dressing-gown by members of her church group and also with a corsage bouquet of pink roses, by her nieces.

Women's Council Endorses Entry Chinese Wives, Families

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Admission of the wives, husbands and children under 21 of Chinese citizens was endorsed by the National Council of Women in annual session here Thursday.

The council also favored treating Canadian Indians the same as citizens of other racial origin, permitting them to vote, receive the old age pension, the pension for the blind and family allowance, and having a voice in the administration of education.

In extending sympathy to Manitoba flood sufferers and the victims of fires in Quebec, the council endorsed the recommendation that "full use" be made of town planning powers and housing assistance under the National Housing Act provisions, dealing with inter-governmental participation in acquisition and development of land servicing and construction of homes.

Proposal to admit families of Chinese who are citizens of Canada brought objection from Mrs. E. J. Underhill of London.

"There is a great deal of communism in China," she said, "and inasmuch as the future of Canada is bound up in what sort of immigrants are allowed into the country and depends on keeping our country free of communism, I object strongly to the resolution. What is the suffering of one person compared to the welfare of a whole country?"

"If we can't match anything Communists from China can do in the next 100 years, or even 10 years, we ought to crawl out," Miss Beatrice Bridgen of Winnipeg replied.

COUNCIL ASKS PENAL REFORM

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The National Council of Women convention last night called for penal reform in Canada, approving several recommendations in the Archambault Royal Commission report.

Delegates also asked adequate legal aid for prisoners unable to afford it, and the appointment of women on prison committees.

Another resolution carried unanimously protested the number of federal orders-in-council as "contrary to democratic principles." Delegates called for the establishment of a committee on parliamentary ministerial authority to scrutinize orders-in-council and report the findings to the House of Commons.

Peter L. Smith Wins Nine Awards To Lead College Scholarship List

Peter L. Smith, who led the first year of Victoria College in the 1950 spring examination and whose 97.3 per cent average was the highest for first and second year, has been named nine times on the annual scholarship list.

Awards totaling $3,230 were announced today by Dr. Harry Hickman, chairman of the committee on prizes and scholarships.

Six of the awards to the younger son of H. L. Smith, principal of Victoria High School, go by reversion to other outstanding students.

Five others are double winners: Maureen A. Cromie, Jaqueline P. Sawyer, Raymond Wehner, John J. Sheppy, and Gordon W. Young.

New awards this year are B.C. Telephone (physics); Standard Furniture (commerce); B.C. Electric (general proficiency); Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wyllie (philosophy); Madame Sanderson Scholarship (English and French); and a two-year bursary offered by John Maltwood.

COMPLETE LIST

Complete scholarship list follows:

Percy H. Elliott Memorial Scholarship of $130 to a student of outstanding merit and promise in one specific field of study, who has also a high general academic standing and qualities of character indicating worthiness to hold the scholarship: Peter L. Smith.

Royal Institution and Frank Eaton Memorial Scholarship of $50 to the student with the highest standing in second year English. Won by Gordon W. Young, by reversion to John J. Sheppy.

DEADLY SNAKE STOPS RADIO

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP)—A copperhead snake, 30 inches long, Thursday night put radio station WHYN out of commission temporarily—and itself permanently—by tangling with a transmitter. Station personnel at the transmitter investigated when power went off. The venomous copperhead was found at the bottom of a conduit.

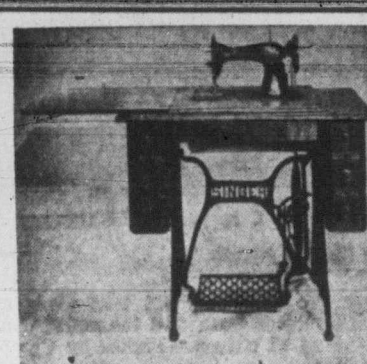

Flies Rout Loggers

SANDSPIT (CP)—Flies, huge flies, are throwing a bug into Queen Charlotte Island logging operations. Loggers cited these incidents today: Several men were bitten so hard it was thought they had measles; others have quit their jobs because of the flies, and the fly victims are finding it painful to shave.

Canadians Take Big Part Developing Fiji Islands

Dean Of Colony Is Henry W. Johnson
Who Went From Home In Ontario

By MARGARET ECKER FRANCIS

SUVA, Fiji (CP)—South of the Equator, between 16 and 15 degrees latitude, 300 Fiji islands are Gauguin canvases come to life.

Hills, jungle, beaches and palm groves are brilliant splashes of color under a tropical sun whose heat is tempered by soft winds from the South Pacific.

Fiji could hardly be more unlike Canada; perhaps that is why a growing colony of Canadians is making the islands its home away from the northern cold. Several of them came to the Crown colony at the turn of the century when the island had only recently become a part of the British Empire. They pioneered the development of Fiji from the days of cannibalistic wars between hostile tribes to the present law-abiding, economically stable country.

At 19, Henry William Johnson, with a suitcase and 25 cents in his pocket, set out from Port Dover, Ont., for the South Seas. "Tavua" Johnson amassed a small fortune through copra plantations and trading and moved to the Fijian capital of Suva.

Here he became a member of the Legislative Council and played an active part in colonial affairs. He is still a justice of the peace and deputy mayor of the city in his 89th year.

"Tavua practically ran Fiji," said one friend. He was noted for progressive schemes for the economic development of the islands, and even in remote islands he is still held in great respect by the natives.

"My life has been stranger than fiction," Tavua Johnson admits. His grey-blue eyes snap and his deep, Canadian-accented voice is full of laughter as he spins yarns of trading, gambling and adventuring during pioneer days in the islands. "And now Fiji is a beautiful land in which to dream away my old age."

MAKES MARGARINE

His son, Tui, born here in 1900, is William Granger Johnson, who received part of his education in Simcoe, Ont. "Tui" which means "King" was the name given him by the Fijians among whom he spent his early childhood. He is managing director of a large copra firm which manufactures margarine and coconut oil.

A vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, Tui is also on the Tourist Board and promotes Fiji as a holiday mecca for Canadians.

Last year, following his graduation from the University of British Columbia, he brought Lorne Swindells of Vancouver to Suva as his chief chemist. With Swindells was his bride, Bonita. The wife of one of Tui's executives, Arthur Jackson, is the former Betty Bright of Winnipeg and Regina.

Another pioneer and crony of Tavua Johnson is William Bolton Stinson, who arrived 50 years ago from Toronto at the age of 19. He started by copra trading with the natives. Following his marriage to a New Zealand girl, he returned to Toronto for a few years and three of his children were born there.

But the Stinsons longed for the tropics and, as soon as they could, returned to Fiji. They tried a copra plantation for a while and then moved to Suva and established a photographic studio, now operated by son Charles. Canadian-born Ilay is in New Zealand and Eric, also born in Toronto, is one of the chief officers of the Fiji customs.

FROM EDMONTON

The discovery of gold in the north of Viti Levu Island in 1931 brought Fred Hildreth of Edmonton to Fiji. He had formerly prospected in the Yukon. "But give me prospecting in the tropics any time," he says with a laugh.

Director of medical services for Fiji and inspector-general of the South Pacific island area (which includes Samoa, Tonga and the Gilbert and Ellice Island groups) is Dr. J. M. Cruikshanks of Saint John, N.B., a graduate of McGill University.

Among the 40 doctors under his charge are two other Canadians, Dr. G. O. Hallman and Dr. Joseph Conran, both of Vancouver. Mrs. Cruikshanks is the former Elaine Strong of Calgary.

Arthur Smith, controller of customs, comes from Winnipeg. Among Canadians now living at Fiji's airport of Nadi are Mr. and Mrs. John Roddie of Vancouver and Victoria. Mr. Roddie is air radio supervisor. Mrs. Henry Hill, wife of a forecaster in the weather operations branch of the airport, is the former Sally Forbes of Charlottetown, P.E.I. Canadians are forging important places for themselves in the economic life of the islands. They are sure more Canadians will join them when they recognize the opportunities presented by this beautiful land.

WATERWHEEL BEING TESTED

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask. (BUP)—Inventor Ewen Hugh Scott received an inquiry from Paraguay about his water wheel which Scott hopes will end the elusive search for perpetual motion.

B. F. Fehr of Colonia Menno wrote that he needed some source of power because he was "off the power lines in Paraguay."

Scott said his wheel, with 16 buckets attached, operated a centrifugal pump and could be rigged up to generate power. The pensioner already has applied for a patent on the invention.

Improved Conduct

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg's high school students have been handed a bouquet by trustee Mrs. E. R. Tennant to balance a brickbat she threw at them recently. She said she found their conduct at a Winnipeg symphony concert "something quite different" from the "objectionable" way they had acted at a previous concert of the Minneapolis Symphony.

Telephone Figures

LUTON, Eng. (CP)—At the Luton telephone exchange it takes between 13 and 15 seconds to answer a call during the day and 13 seconds at night.

Foreign Businessmen Antagonized By Jap

Government Officials Lose Support Of Many On Whom Country May Depend

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese government officials are doing a good job of antagonizing many of the foreign businessmen upon whom they may have to depend for the country's revival.

In some respects, the Japanese are more arrogant than in 1940, when they started telling foreigners they no longer needed them.

The big current issue is over proposed tax rates on personal incomes, but this is merely symbolic of numerous unanswered questions on how the Japanese intend to treat foreigners when they get full autonomy.

The proposed tax legislation provides some exemptions for foreigners "contributing to Japan's economy," but it still would take up to 55 per cent of earned income, with the heaviest load falling on low-salaried foreigners.

CHANGES REFUSED

Key Japanese officials rather sternly have refused further changes in response to protests by the American Chamber of Commerce in Japan. The Japanese have the authority to suggest concessions, even though occupation headquarters must approve the final program.

The foreign businessmen have expressed willingness to pay equitable taxes. But they object to rates higher than those in their own countries, because they say these unusually high rates were set for reasons that should not involve foreigners.

Japanese taxes always have been high on paper because the Japanese assume nobody will report accurately. Japanese business concerns keep double and triple sets of books to avoid paying full taxes. The Japanese also are taxed heavily to try to pay for the war they lost and for the costs of occupation and rehabilitation.

Foreign businessmen contend neither of these reasons for high taxes should apply to them.

Neither of these points was mentioned in a tax-reform blueprint prepared some time ago by a special mission under Carl S. Shoup of Columbia University.

The Japanese seized on the Shoup mission's proposal to apply full rates to foreigners while ducking its recommendation that the entire tax reorganization program should be adopted at once. The Shoup report itself stated no foreigner would be hurt if his home office would increase his salary by 35 per cent to meet taxes.

Both Japanese and occupation thinking has been pretty generally dominated by the attitude that all foreign businessmen in Japan are making fortunes. This idea has been encouraged by the relatively high, but by no means unusual, living standard of representatives of major foreign companies. They obviously are making money—but there is no evidence of a gold rush.

From the beginning the occupation has placed what it calls "commercial entrants" in a separate category from military and civilian members of the occupation.

Foreign businessmen have taken beatings on such things as housing. They live in second-rate hotels at first-rate prices, or have had to buy inadequate houses at inflated costs. They pay what amounts to exorbitant taxes at the legal rate for the yen on imported cigarettes and some foods.

In business matters they report they find the Japanese government choked with red tape and staffed with unco-operative bureaucrats who like to show authority.

Mayor Has Neon Sign At Office

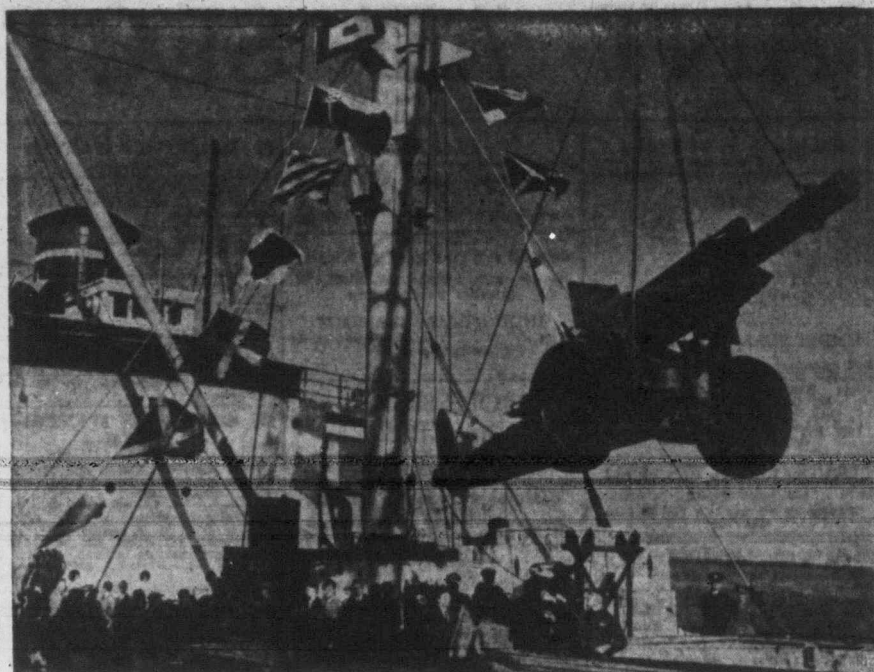

HALIFAX (BUP)—Mayor Gordon S. Kinley of Halifax is a quiet man, but he likes people to know where he is.

Shortly after his re-election the mayor had city workmen take down the green light, installed by a previous incumbent, over his office entrance.

He substituted a fine, cheery red one, with "Mayor" in neon around it.

Britain Checks Up On Teeth, Glasses

LONDON (CP)—People who want a new set of store teeth under Britain's national health service will have to do some tall talking in future.

Under a new ruling, the government will pay for repairs and replacements to sets of artificial teeth only when loss or damage is due to "circumstances beyond the applicant's control."

The same thing applies to eye-glasses.

The health ministry, acknowledging local optical and dental committees had been instructed to tighten up on assessing claims for free repairs and replacements, said it had no information how much this service had cost the country.

In the past there have been frequent reports of applicants claiming new glasses because

VARIED FOOD FOR HUNTERS

CALGARY (BUP)—Paging gourmets!

Here's the menu for a dinner to be served directors of Ducks Unlimited when they meet here in June.

Buffalo, elk, deer, antelope, moose, rocky mountain sheep and bear meat, in the game line. For those who prefer birds, there will be Canada goose, snow goose, mallard duck, pheasants, prairie chicken, ruffed grouse and Hungarian part ridge.

The chef said he was still looking for some caribou and ptarmigan to add to the menu.

They left their old pair on a bus, or new teeth because the old ones "fell into the water when I sneezed on a dock."

Fleet Shows Power Against Submarines

A glimpse during the Canadian Navy's most recent manoeuvre off Nova Scotia—an anti-submarine demonstration staged for the benefit of the Canada-United States Permanent Joint Board on Defence, currently meeting in Halifax. Twin Bofors are trained skyward and Firefly anti-submarine aircraft and Sea Fury fighters are ranged on the flight deck of H.M.C.S. Magnificent in position for take off. The carrier's plane guard, H.M.C.S. Micmac—Tribal class destroyer, races up the port side of the carrier.—(R.C.N. Photo)

Building Total At High Mark For 5 Months

Fears that building might take a slump in 1950 were not borne out in the first five months of this year when construction was valued at $1,000,000 more than the first five months of 1949. Figures released today by the city building inspector's office showed construction amounting to $3,308,943 for 1950, compared with $2,704,277 for the same months in 1949.

For the month of May alone this year, construction value was double that of May, 1949.

A total of 187 permits for work amounting to $1,021,874 was issued in May this year, compared with 169 permits for work valued at $553,552 last May. J. W. Oosterink, building inspector, reported.

Construction value this May was double April's total which was $502,627.

Dispute On Wages Of Painters Goes To Conciliation

W. T. McLaughlin, Victoria conciliation officer, has been named by the B.C. Labor Relations Board to assist the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, Local 1163, to conclude a collective agreement with the Master Painters' Association of Victoria.

The parties have been unable to agree upon union requests for increased wages, provisions covering emergency work; statutory holidays; out-of-town jobs; union shop; holidays with pay and other conditions of work.

The negotiations effect about 130 painters in the Greater Victoria area.

Dawson And Hall Have Low Tender

The Vancouver construction firm of Dawson & Hall Ltd., entered the lowest tender for building a bridge for the government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway over Cottonwood River.

Tenders were opened Thursday. Dawson & Hall bid $183,147. Next was Marwell Construction Co. Ltd., with a bid of $186,863.

Other firms tendering on the job:

Northern Construction Co., and J. W. Stewart Ltd., $194,802. General Construction Co., $195,448; Baynes Manning Ltd., $279,030; Gilpin Nash Ltd., $223,515; Campbell-Bennett Ltd., $291,375, and B.C. Bridge and Dredging Co., $321,405.

The incident occurred when the auxiliary navy tug Heatherington was towing the target off Victoria in the Strait of Juan de Fuca. The large target drifted southwest of Race Rocks from late in the morning till about 6 in the evening when the tug reached it after first returning to Esquimalt to pick up grappling irons.

Target Cable Broken

The navy's floating target was on its own for several hours Thursday when a fluke shot by gunners aboard a destroyer severed its towing cable.

Three auxiliary cruisers new to Royal Victoria Yacht Club this year will be among the field of 11 boats. They are Max Young's Alcione, and the sisterships, Halcyon II, owned by Maurice Green, and Bendora, owned by Dr. Ben Nickells.

It will be the first real test for these additions to the R.V.Y.C. fleet.

ALBERTA OIL REPORT

Portland, B.C. Companies Give Pipeline Testimony

CALGARY (BUP)—Testimony on the uses the northwest United States and British Columbia could make of Alberta's natural gas was piling up today before the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board.

The board, sitting in Calgary, is hearing applications for export permits from the Alberta Natural Gas Company and two associated firms.

The companies want to pipe natural gas out of the province. A spokesman for the biggest gas distributor in the American Pacific northwest, the Portland Gas and Coke Company, said his company would buy 28,000,000 cubic feet of Alberta natural gas if export permits were granted.

H. Cooke, the Portland company official, said that in the first year of exporting his firm would purchase seven and a half billion cubic feet.

Other witnesses at yesterday's hearings cautioned that the price of exported natural gas at, for example the Vancouver delivery point should go little

$984 Only Needed For N.H.A. Homes

More homes are now available for veterans with the completion of 20 National Housing Act houses in a subdivision near Mount Toimie.

The houses are ready for occupancy with a down-payment of only $984. Arrangements have been made for veterans to purchase the home with re-establishment credits.

Full price for the stucco bungalows is $7,850, with monthly payments ranging from $38 to $43, according to the veteran's salary. The houses are fully modern and have complete oil automatic air-conditioned furnace heating piped to all rooms.

Heavy Entry Of Yachts In Handicap Race Sunday

The waters off Victoria will present a colorful sight Sunday when one of the largest number of boats ever to enter the Ben Temple handicap race sail from Royal Victoria Yacht Club to William Head and return.

The 36-mile annual event for the trophy commemorating one of the club's charter members will get under way at 9:30 in the morning.

Scratch boat will be Buccaneer which won the race last year. She will be skippered by John Wallace, son of Hubert Wallace, owner of the sloop.

Three auxiliary cruisers new to Royal Victoria Yacht Club this year will be among the field of 11 boats. They are Max Young's Alcione, and the sisterships, Halcyon II, owned by Maurice Green, and Bendora, owned by Dr. Ben Nickells.

Other entries are Cherie (Dr. R. J. Wride), May D (Ned Asher), higher than 30 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, wholesale.

R. D. Davidson of the B.C. Electric Co. said if the price went much above that the advantages of the natural gas over manufactured gas would be limited if the price went over 35 cents.

City Takes Permit For Sea Wall Job

The city has taken out a permit for repairs to the Dallas Road seawall at a cost of $72,000.

Following City Council instruction, the public works department will handle the repair job, under direction of Cyril Jones, city engineer.

Twenty-six building permits were issued in the municipality of Esquimalt during the month of May, worth $103,300. It was announced today. During the same month in 1949 there were 19 permits issued, with a total value of $82,650.

Of this year's total, 17 were for dwellings worth $101,000. In 1949, only nine permits were issued for dwellings during May. The total value was $54,500.

The nine miscellaneous permits issued last month were worth $3,800 while for the corresponding month last year, there were 10 miscellaneous permits issued, valued at $28,150.

Free Bus Passes Granted Police

Ald. Harold Diggon, chairman of Greater Victoria transportation committee, announced following a meeting Thursday the B.C. Electric has granted free bus passes to all metropolitan area policemen for use either in or out of uniform.

The company privilege was the result of committee negotiations over the past year, Ald. Diggon said, adding that free passes had been disallowed when the franchise agreement was signed with the utility company.

Study Methods Of City Hall Renovations To Exterior

Specifications are being prepared for three to four methods of covering the City Hall exterior with an up-to-date finish.

Ald. Harold M. Diggon, chairman of the special City Hall renovations committee said today.

A modern entrance will be

Combat Veterans Name Officers

New president of the Canadian Combat Veterans' Association is John V. Thom. He was named to the office at the 15th annual election of officers at Vancouver.

Others: Joseph J. Gray, first vice-president; James H. Mills, second vice-president; Walter H. Kirchner, secretary; Sholto D. McEllan, treasurer; Robert Hartin, Rev. Roy MacDonald, and Percy Dennett, executive members.

constructed on Pandora Street side to City Hall, along with the general renovations for that portion of the building already announced.

Possibility of taking over half of Fiddlers' Green as a car park for City Hall officials and aldermen is being considered by Ald. Diggon.

Paving of the market yard in this year's estimates will get underway shortly. Half of it will be used for the fire department and half for the market car parking.

"Please tell us who was the coward on this hand," requests a Chicago reader. "We were the only pair that didn't bid three notrump on these cards in a duplicate game the other night."

"North said he could hardly bid notrump with three little spades and three little hearts. He also said he didn't think much of a raise of three diamonds with just two diamonds in his hand."

"South said he could not bid notrump with just one stopper in spades and with no really good suit to run. He said he would have been delighted to bid three notrump if North had raised the diamonds."

"We asked some of the other players how they got to three notrump. Most of them bid two notrump with the South hand after hearing about the clubs from North. Is two notrump a good bid?"

"How would this hand be bid by a pair of experts?"

Almost any pair of experts would surely get to three notrump. They might get there by one route or by another, but they would not fail to bid the game.

Some experts would open the South hand with one diamond and then bid two notrump at the next turn. They do not consider this rebid of two notrump as a very powerful bid in a match-point game. They use it as a sort of bid of convenience.

There is no trouble, of course, if South bids two notrump. North is overjoyed to raise to three notrump.

Many experts, however, would not use the rebid of two notrump with the South hand. They use this type of bid to show a powerful hand. Instead they would bid only two diamonds.

The partner of such a player would unquestionably bid three diamonds with the North hand. After all, you can raise a rebid suit with any strong doubleton in your partner's suit. In this case, North has the strongest possible doubleton.

In other words, South's proper rebid is a matter of opinion. Some experts would bid it one way, some another way. However, there is no doubt that North was timid to pass at two diamonds. I would not go so far as to say that he was a coward, but I would suggest that he was unnecessarily cautious.
